Grass Lake, Lotus Schools May Merge

by PATTY KOROM

A citizen's advisory committee met for the third time Dec. 11 to discuss Grass Lake School District's financial woes.

The school is faced with an estimated $57,000 deficit in education funds alone for the 1987-88 school year. This deficit was foreseen by the previous superintendent, Paul Hogan, when Grass Lake and Lotus Schools failed to merge in 1984.

The committee, led by John Fleshman, spent over three hours poring over financial records, budget projections and background data with Dist. 36 superintendent Anthony Przeklasa in an effort to finalize a list of options available to the district.

Six suggestions, according to Przeklasa, will be presented to the board of education in a special meeting of the board of education, possibly this week.

The options, ranging from borrowing to consolidation, include:

- Deplete all available funds and ask the state for emergency assistance.

- Issue tax anticipation warrants, by borrowing money from a lending institution against the following year's revenues.

- Sell general obligation bonds, purchased on the open market by individuals or companies, to be paid back at a future date of maturity.

- Cut school programs back to basics and evaluate administrative and staffing patterns.

- Pass a referendum to increase the tax rate paid by homeowners.

- Consider trying to merge Grass Lake and Lotus schools into one district.

According to Przeklasa, consolidation could be the most cost effective for the district by doubling the assessed valuation and cutting administrative costs.

Superintendent salaries alone now cost the combined district's $89,946 per year, with overall salaries taking 85 percent of each school's budget.

Fleshman feels that emotions and a lack of correct information clouded the first try for consolidation.

"There were questions left unanswered, or not explained in a way that people understood, it was a very emotional issue. If we try it again, we are all going to have to cooperate," he said.

A major concern by residents during the 1984 merger attempt was fear of the district becoming too big. Addressing this concern, Fleshman said, "What's too big? I know that we are too small because the district can't handle the finances."

He went on to say "I think the merger could be beneficial, we have an excellent teaching staff and we could afford to pay them more."

The average teacher's salary at Grass Lake School is $18,581 compared to a state average of $27,014.

Art Smejkal, superintendent of Lotus school said in a short interview that he had not been contacted about the possibility of a merger. Smejkal did, however, indicate that he would support the issue.

"It's time for us to stop concerning ourselves with slippery bridges (a major issue in the 1984 try for consolidation) and do what is best for the children," he said.

Przeklasa praised the efforts of the advisory committee. He said, "It is great that these people had the foresight to begin working toward a solution to this problem in advance. They met throughout the summer prior to my arrival, the committee has worked very hard."

Bank Names New Trainee

Terry Gloss has been promoted to the position of Asst. Teller Supervisor at the First National Bank of Antioch. Terry has been employed at the First National since Dec., 1984, as a part time teller.

Santa's Helper

Santa's mail is collected daily by an elf disguised as Glenda Tomaschlik, Antioch's Director of Parks and Recreation. Over 100 letters are collected daily from Santa's mailbox. Elves disguised as volunteers have donated countless hours answering each and every letter.

Mail Overflows At 100 Toyland Road

100 Toyland Road, Antioch, has received more mail than any other address in town these past weeks, and the letters continue to pour in.

Who resides at this address? If your first guess was Santa Claus, you were absolutely right!

According to Antioch's Parks and Recreation Director, Glenda Tomaschlik, the first letter that Santa received for Christmas '86 arrived in July. The letter, disguised as a thank-you for last year's gifts, included a wish list for Christmas '87.

To date, Santa has received over 800 letters, and estimates that over 3,000 will cross his desk before Dec. 25.

Santa's elves, disguised as local residents and volunteers from the American Assn. of Retired Persons, have spent countless hours helping Santa answer each child (or adult) who writes.

The letters, averaging about 100 per day, come from all over Illinois. Most letters are from children who ask for toys and games. One letter, however, from a Zion boy, asked Santa to provide all of the traditional toys and a "husband for my mommy, so that my brother and sister can come and live with us."

Tomaschlik said that some letters "literally break your heart." Requests for the simple necessities, such as food and clothing are forwarded to local officials. Some good-hearted souls actually write to Santa and offer to sponsor less fortunate families at Christmas. In spite of the kindness of such individuals, more help is needed.

The Antioch Post Office, responsible for sorting all of Santa's letters, has had a lot of fun with the project, according to Postmaster Stan Luta.

"We not only sort the letters that come by direct mail, we also receive letters from 107 other post offices throughout the state that don't have an address for Santa. We even received a letter this year from Oklahoma."

Santa's expenses for handling all of these letters have increased over the past three years. The first year, only 400 letters arrived in Santa's mailbox and the First National Bank helped out by providing the postage for return letters.

Last year, Santa's mail grew to over 3,000 and the State Bank pitched in along with the First National Bank to help defray the cost.

Tomaschlik expects at least as many letters this year as last. The Chamber of Commerce donated Santa's stationery and the Antioch VFW Post contributed $50 toward postage, but funds are still needed.

Tomaschlik indicated that Santa expects to spend another $1,000 on postage before Christmas, and quite frankly, he's getting a little short on cash.

If you haven't written your annual letter to Santa, it's not too late. Santa will accept letters through Dec. 23 at 100 Toyland Road, Antioch, Illinois.

Any donations to help Santa with his mailing costs, can be forwarded to the Antioch Village Hall, 847 Main St., Antioch, Ill. For more information about sponsoring a family, call Antioch Parks and Recreation Director, Glenda Tomaschlik, at (312) 395-2160.

Police Urge Safety

Illinois State Police Supt. Laimutis A. Nargelenas suggests, "giving the gift of friendship this holiday season."

Supt. Nargelenas said, "Christmas and New Years are traditional times of celebration, gaiety and exchanging gifts. December tradition also holds that nearly 2,000 persons will die in traffic accidents which involve the use of alcohol. To focus attention on this potential devastation, the week of Dec. 14-20 has been designated as the Fifth Annual National Drunk and Drugged Driver Awareness Week."

"In support of this effort to reduce holiday traffic accidents, the Illinois State Police asks hosts and hostesses to promote the designated driver concept at all gatherings where alcohol will be served. The number of tragic seasonal fatalities can be reduced if this act of friendship is offered along with an alcoholic beverage."

Nargelenas asks, "What better gift can a person offer than an extension of their life, or more significantly, to keep them from the misery of knowing they ended someone else's life prematurely?"

The Illinois State Police feel that the designated driver concept makes good sense. All that is required is for a select few to volunteer at the beginning of a party or holiday celebration to drink non-alcoholic beverages and to drive the other celebrants home safely. The responsibility can be rotated to other volunteers at the next party or celebration.

Yule Phone Helps The Depressed

The annual Yule Connection, a 24-hour telephone hotline for those who are lonely and depressed during the holiday season, will be in service in 1986 for the 10th straight year. The special phone lines will be open from noon on Tuesday, Dec. 22, through midnight on Sunday, Jan. 4. This service is designed to put callers in touch with resources, events, or persons in the Chicago area who can provide help with loneliness, depression or other problems. The hotline number is (312) 644-HELP or, for hearing-impaired people, (312) 644-5510.

The Yule Connection will operate from the telephone center of Contact Chicago, a year-round telephone hotline. The Yule Connection is sponsored by Contact with the support of the Church Federation of Greater Chicago.

Telephones are staffed by professionally trained volunteers who are equipped with an index of sources to provide help in dealing with problems.

The elderly, poor, widowed, young singles, and divorced are especially likely to need help during the holidays.

New State Bank Facility On Roll In Lindenhurst

The State Bank of Antioch has had a sign on the vacant property across from the Eagle Food Store heralding the coming of its new facility to Lindenhurst for a long time.

The ball on the facility's actuality is rolling now with the three necessary public hearings set for zoning changes and the annexation of one acre south of the bank's present property for the rerouting of Columbus Ave. and final approval by the village board.

The proposition will go before the planning commission at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, Jan. 15, before the zoning board on Jan. 20 and before the village board as a whole on Monday, Jan. 26, at 7:30 p.m., preceding the regular bi-monthly board meeting.

Plans for the full banking facility include a modern one-story 21,000 square foot building which will house the full-service bank, including loan offices, automatic teller machines, drive-through banking facilities and a safety deposit vault.

The west end of the complex will be rentable office space.

According to State Bank President Randy Miles, the bank is now negotiating to rent these offices (up to 15) as part of a medical center. The bank itself will employ 11 people.

The annexation of the one-acre plot is to allow the moving of the access road, Columbus Ave., further away from the busy Grand Ave. intersection.

Miles said that construction is set to start in April and the bank hopes that the new facility will be completed before next Thanksgiving.

Tree's Top Hits Roof

by PATTY KOROM

People who put up Christmas trees usually enjoy doing it, if not for themselves, for their children or grandchildren.

Antioch residents Ed and Phyllis Petrosius enjoy their Christmas tree so much that they begin looking during the summer months for just the right tree.

This year, the tree that caught the Petrosius eye just happened to be standing in a neighbors front yard. The tree was scheduled to be chopped down in Aug., but Petrosius convinced neighbors Glenn and Millie Slodik to hold off until the holidays.

True to his word, Petrosius and five "very big men" cut the pine down and took it home. The tree now standing in Petrosius'

"great room" is 21 feet high and 14 feet wide. The base of the tree is eight inches around and is nailed to a four by four piece of plywood.

Ornaments for the tree are no problem, as Phyllis has been collecting them since she was a small child. The tree, trimmed with the help of a second floor balcony, has 1,200 lights and over 500 ornaments.

According to Ed, there are also between 80 and 90,000 strands of icicles on the tree. He did admit however, that he hadn't counted every strand.

The search for next years tree will no doubt begin soon. Last year the Petrosius' found "just the right tree" in a Chicago neighborhood.

Some Do Christmas In Really Big Way!

by GLORIA DAVIS

Have you picked out your Christmas tree yet this year? Of course if you're the typical 1986 Yuletide celebrants, you've already had your artificial one for years and all it takes is just bringing it out of the closet or up from the basement, straightening it out a little and everyone can start hanging away.

My mother always loved Christmas and made quite a deal out of it when we were growing up. We always had the fresh green tree that went up on Christmas Eve afternoon and was trimmed by "Santa" in a closed-off livingroom from noon to 5 p.m. so it would be ready and all the lights gleaming, with carols playing on the non-stereo phonograph, when we rushed in after dinner to open our presents.

Things have changed a little. Now she covers her completely decorated four-foot tall artificial one with plastic every year on Jan. 6 and tucks it away garlands and all, only to be uncovered and "gussied-up" a bit each Christmas Eve.

According to my friend Guinness, the tallest Christmas Tree ever decorated was a 221-foot Douglas fir tree erected in the Northgate Shopping Center in Seattle, Wash., in 1950.

In 1979, the Kingdome again in Seattle, was decorated with 1,000 Christmas trees that were ablaze with 100,000 lights for a special company Christmas party thrown by the Boeing Co.

During the 1960's and early 1970's, when money was more abundant, it seemed that there weren't enough days in December before Christmas to get in all the Christmas parties.

In an effort to do something that wasn't the usual cocktail party, plus huge punch bowl of whipped cream topped egg nog, plus cheese ball and assorted red and green hors d'oeuvres, I once had a Hollywiian Luau instead.

Everyone had to wear something "Christmassy" and something tropical. One gal wore a fur sarong and another came with a lei made out of poinsettias and holly.

It took me an entire afternoon to decorate a fake palm tree and string green and red japanese lanterns throughout the house. We served the traditional roasted pig but it had a pomegranate in its mouth.

Yet this didn't hold a Christmas candle to the aforementioned party tossed by the aircraft moguls. That was the largest holiday party on record with over 103,000 people in attendance in two shifts. The dome was decorated with 150,000 snow-white balloons and three full-size ice ponds were the highlight. It took 2,506 people to plan and execute this bash.

Talking of planning, so far this year, I'm way behind. I haven't resurrected my Christmas card list from that niche I tucked it away in last year, not to mention purchasing same.

Oh well, I guess I'm still ahead of the holiday game that I had to play for a few years after I lost that list.

I used to mail-out New Year's cards to those I got Christmas cards from, after I retrieved the addresses from the envelopes they came in because I was too embarrassed to ask people I had been sending cards to for years for their address. It took almost five years to recompile that list.

Of course it was too late to send out cards to the ones whose communiques I received just before Christmas but they did get one the next year.

This did get a little complicated since some people, who were also operating in the reciprocity vein, failed to send us one the second year of this debacle because they hadn't gotten one from us the first year but we went on their list for the following year. Of course we sent none to them that year and so on. I finally just took them off the list for two straight years and the fiasco stopped, neither family exchanges cards now. In fact I can't even remember their names.

How would you have liked licking the stamps and envelopes for the Werner Erhard family of San Francisco when they sent out 62,824 personal Christmas cards in 1975?

After all this, isn't it true that trees, parties and cards do not a perfect Christmas make. No matter what anyone says, its the presents you get that either makes or breaks the season! Well?

"Happy Holidays."

Yes, 'tis the season to be jolly, as I begin my early walk this crisp, clear morning. The village Christmas trees adorning the lamp posts are all sparkling and glowing, bedecked from a light snowfall. And what better way to start the day than attending morning Mass at St. Peter's Church, where either Father Hanley, Duffy or Tonelli will be officiating.

Such faithful parishioners as Ed Gromala, Floyd Davis, John Zak and Ralph Thompson will be present, along with the ladies of the parish, Jean Zak, Frances Winiecki, Lottie Vejvoda, Clare Kadera, Betty Letke at the rectory, Vera Mirocko and Ruth Burke, to name a few.

Safety First Is Key To Keeping Holidays Happy

With Thanksgiving safely completed, hopefully, homeowners should examine the fire hazards of holidays in December - Christmas, Chanukah and New Year's Eve.

State Fire Marshal Tom Bestudik warns, "On these festive occasions, with the joy and excitement, and religious significance, we must take time to identify fire hazards and examine fire safety practices, with emphasis on established, reviewed and practiced exit plans so that if a fire starts, everyone has an opportunity to flee to safety."

"As far as Christmas is concerned, the tree is usually the central focus, especially for children," Bestudik said, "however, we offer a few recommendations for parents:

Winter holidays - Christmas (Dec. 25), Chanukah (Dec. 27) and New Year's Eve (Dec. 31) - are endangered by fires as they are being celebrated with happiness and abandon. These dangers need not be if relatively simple precautions are observed. Among the precautions for every celebration follow:

- Be sure all exits are clear. Provide large ashtrays. Dispose of smoking materials in covered metal waste containers. Don't dump matches, pipe debris or cigarette and cigar butts in trash - smoldering smoking materials can cause paper to burst into flames later.

- Establish and practice a procedure to follow in the event of fire.

- Be sure your babysitter knows and understands emergency procedures.

- Install and check smoke detectors. (They make excellent gifts for loved ones)

Other holidays have dangers created by the special date. Some of these are:

Christmas

Natural trees should be fresh, not dyed green. The needles should be supple and bend, not snap; when bumped on the ground, only a few needles, not a rain, should fall. The cut end should be sticky from sap.

Set the tree in water, after cutting off about an inch of the tree to assure water absorption. Use a non-tip stand and guy-wires for stability; keep the tree away from candles, TV sets, fireplaces, open flames and heat vents. Do not set it up in or near an exitway.

Add water to natural trees every day; plain water is best. When the needles get dry, discard the tree.

- Plastic and metallic trees should carry the label of an approved safety-testing agency.

- Use indirect lighting unless the tree has a built-in electrical unit; do not use decorative lights on a metallic tree.

- Replace worn insulation, loose bulb sockets and broken plugs. Be sure all lighting sets are testing-agency approved.

- Be sure decorative lights are away from combustible materials. Do not use candles or open flame near a tree. Do not use candles in decorations or displays.

- Make sure all decorative lights are turned off before going out or to bed.

- Provide a switch for controlling the lights away from the tree; do not crawl under or around the tree for any reason.

- Indoor lighting sets should not be used outdoors. Outdoor lights, extension cords and fixtures should be testing-agency approved.

- Use only flame-retardant or noncombustible materials. Do not use untreated cotton batting, flocking, tissue paper or flammable foam plastics on or around the tree. Keep gift wrapping and electric trains away from the tree.

Chanukah

- Be sure candles are firmly set in the menorah and on a non-flammable surface, away from greeting cards.

- Parents should be present during the candle-lighting ceremony; the child should receive the lighting candle already lit and the child should place the lighting candle firmly upright in the menorah.

- New Year's Eve is an occasion to celebrate, among other things, the completion of another fire-free year and to resolve to make 1987 an even safer year," Bestudik suggested.

"Have a happy and safe New Year," he said.

To Fete Folk School Birthday

Members of the Libertyville School of Folk and Old Time Music will celebrate the school's 12th birthday with a concert and dance at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, Jan. 2, at the American Legion Hall, 715 N. Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville.

The first of two birthday parties sponsored by the David Adler Cultural Center will feature Phil Cooper and Margaret Nelson, Paul Goetz and Jim Tibenksy, Mitch Thomas and Fred Campeau, and Jenny and Becky Armstrong taking turns on stage and gathering for one or two last sing-alongs before the barn dance.

Mark Gunther will perform the fiddling honors for the dance, with Bill Meek aiding and abetting as caller. All dances are walked through first, so no experience is necessary.

Admission is $5 for adults, $4.50 for members, $2 for senior citizens and children ages six to 12, and free for children under 12.

The David Adler Cultural Center, home of the school of folk and old-time music and the Libertyville Arts Center, is located at 1700 N. Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville. For more information, call (312)367-0707.

Singles Celebrate Holidays

Non-Smoking Singles will host a holiday party at a member's home in Ingleside on Saturday, Dec. 20, starting with a potluck supper 5:30 p.m. Non-members are welcome. Cover charge is for members, $4 for non-members, and $5 for those who do not contribute food. For directions and reservations call Lucy at (312)546-4107 or Ruth, (815)385-4755.

Implement Aggression Group

A Safe Place/Lake County Crisis Center announces a new service for men who batter their partners. A group is currently being formed and will begin the first of thirteen sessions in mid-January. This is an "Alternative to Aggression" group and will include assertiveness training, cognitive restructuring and consciousness raising. For further information, call (312)249-4450.

Completes Training

Army Reserve Private 1st Class Gerald N. Foley, son of Catherine Foley of Antioch, and Tim N. Foley of Chicago, has completed basic training at Fort Knox, Ky.

Offer Chance To See Bald Eagles

Illinois Dept. of Conservation will participate in two weekends of Bald Eagle Appreciation Days this year,

Jan. 16-18, at Keokuk, Iowa, and Feb. 13-15 at Rock Island, according to Carl Becker, DOC Natural Heritage Div. chief.

At both events, visitors will have opportunities for viewing bald eagles wintering along the Mississippi River, Becker said. Indoor displays, films, exhibits and a live eagle presentation are also scheduled.

This is the third year for the Keokuk Bald Eagle Appreciation Days, which last year drew more than 6,000 persons. Activities slated for Friday, Jan. 16 are reserved for school groups, Becker said, while Saturday and Sunday's activities are open to all ages.

Keosippi Shopping Mall, on Main St., will house indoor exhibits and activities. An hourly program featuring a film about eagles and a live eagle presentation by wildlife biologist Ryan Walden of Minnesota will introduce visitors to bald eagles and their biology. Saturday and Sunday's program features concurrent special lectures at 1 and 2 p.m. on bald eagle biology. Displays and other information about bald eagles will be located throughout the mall.

Three observation areas, located along the riverfront, will provide the public with opportunities for viewing bald eagles in the wild. Spotting scopes will be available and biologists will be on hand to answer questions and point out eagles foraging in the area. Buses will run from the mall to the observation areas on Saturday and Sunday. Since it can be extremely cold on the riverfront in January, visitors are advised to dress warmly.

Keokuk enjoys one of the largest concentrations of bald eagles along the Mississippi River, according to Becker. Each year, up to 400 birds spend the winter months near the Keokuk Locks and Dam. When the river freezes over, the eagles congregate near the locks and dam where turbulence maintains a patch of open water, providing an area where eagles can forage for fish.

The Quad Cities Bald Eagle Appreciation Day is slated for Feb. 13-15 at the Modern Woodmen of America Building, Illinois Rte. 92, Rock Island. As with the Keokuk event, Friday, Feb. 13 is reserved for school groups with advance reservations, while Saturday and Sunday are open to everyone. The event will be similar to the one at Keokuk, featuring exhibits, film and live eagle presentations. Observation areas for viewing eagles in the wild are located within walking distance of the building.

Bald Eagle Appreciation Days are sponsored by U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and the nongame programs of the Iowa Dept. of Natural Resources and the Illinois Dept. of Conservation. The Keosippi Mall assists with the Keokuk event, and the Quad City Audubon Assn. and Modern Woodmen of America Insurance assist with the Quad City event.

School groups wishing to make reservations for Jan. 16 at Keokuk may call Keosippi Mall, (319)524-8041. School group reservations for Feb. 13 at the Quad Cities can be made by calling (309)788-6361, ext. 484.

"These events are excellent opportunities for members of the public to learn about bald eagles and actually see bald eagles in the wild," Becker said. "We are fortunate that the Mississippi River has one of the highest concentrations of wintering bald eagles in the Midwest. Depending upon the severity of the weather, we will have 700 to 1,400 eagles spending the winter along the river from Minneapolis to a point just south of St. Louis."

Bald eagles have faced serious population declines in the last 30 years due to habitat destruction and the effects of contaminant buildup in the environment. Now protected by both state and federal law, the bald eagle population is on the road to recovery, but still has a long way to go. Opportunities, such as those provided by Bald Eagle Appreciation Days, to see bald eagles in the wild are rare, Becker said.

Balloons And More Balloons!

From left, Karen Weyand and Yvonne Eastman tie a balloon, as Karmen Boehlke, director of marketing at the Factory Outlet Center, holds on to a bunch. ### Sheriff Says Try 'Mocktails'

Kenosha County Sheriff Fred Ekornaas advises, "Be a friend first, then be a host. Insure the safety of your holiday guests by serving measured drinks, offering alcohol-free beverages and providing plenty of food."

Ekornaas asks how many times the simple phrase "if only..." has come to one's mind. Generally, the consequences of "if only..." can be rectified. This is not always the case where driving and drinking or drugs are concerned.

"It is important to be alert to the amount of alcohol your guests are consuming," Sheriff Ekornaas said. "Once some has had too much to drink, only time can sober him or her up. It takes an hour for the body to burn off one ounce of hard liquor, a 12 ounce beer or five ounces of wine. Cold showers, coffee or other remedies won't sober up guests."

A good host provides alternative beverages, mocktails, for the one out of every three persons who doesn't drink. Also, be sure guests have an ample supply of foods throughout the evening.

Stack your buffet table with rich, starchy foods, such as pasta, potatoes and cookies. Starchy foods slow the absorption of alcohol into the blood stream of persons who are drinking.

"Don't place yourself in a situation you will regret; don't wake up in the morning thinking, 'if only...'" Sheriff Ekornaas says.

Evil Storms

The ancient Chinese believed kites could clear the skies of storms and carry evil away.

Auditions

Auditions for "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" will be held Sunday, Jan. 4 at 2 p.m. and Monday, Jan. 5 at 7 p.m. at the Genesee Theatre, 205 N. Genesee St., Waukegan. Parts are available for both adults and children. The production will be staged Feb. 27, 28 and March 1, 1987. For additional information, call (312)336-0494.

To Serve Musical Feast

A half dozen of the David Adler Cultural Center's finest musical "chefs" will serve up a holiday feast for the ears at the center on Saturday, Dec. 20, at 7:30 and 9:30 p.m.

Fred Campeau, Phil Cooper, Paul Goetz, Margaret Nelson, Chirps Smith, and Mitch Thomas will bring their seasonal specialties to share for an evening of listening, singing along and all-around enjoyment.

Admission is $5 for adults, $4.50 for members, $2 for senior citizens and children six to 12, and free for children under six.

The David Adler Cultural Center, 1700 N. Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville, is a non-profit organization.

For information call (312) 367-0707.

Set Kids' Concert

Veteran folk song singers and folk tale tellers Becky and Jenny Armstrong will present the Children's Concert at the David Adler Cultural Center on Sunday, Dec. 21 at 2 p.m. at the center.

Blending their knowledge of the relationship of folk traditions to the cycle of seasons and holidays with their musical talents on a variety of instruments, the Armstrong sisters weave a tapestry of words and music for listeners of all ages.

Admission is $3 for adults; $2.50 for members and $2 for children. For information call (312) 367-0707.

Say Cheese

A survey by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service found that nearly half of the adult population observed, photographed or fed wildlife while at home.

'Miracle' At Genesee

Beth Kulczyk is shocked to find out that Roger Bardwell is really Santa Claus in the Christmas favorite 'Miracle On 34th St.' which will take to the stage of the Genesee Theater, Waukegan, Dec. 19, 20 and 21 at 9 a.m., 8 p.m. and Saturdays, 3 and 8 p.m. Call the theater at (312) 336-0428 for more information.

Lions Low-Vision Clinic Helps Children To See

Fourteen-year-old Rich S., a second year high school student at the Illinois School for the Visually Impaired in Jacksonville, suffers from macular degeneration, an eye disease caused by damage to the blood vessels supplying the retina. When Rich started at the school last year, he was very depressed. Classified as legally blind, he felt that since he couldn't see, he would always be that way.

But Rich was one of the lucky ones. Through the Lions Low Vision Clinic, held twice a year at the school, help was quick in coming. Through a combination of eye strengthening exercises and the services of eye professionals as well as the latest in optical equipment, Rich was able for the first time to read large print in the textbook.

He was outfitted with a pair of low vision aids attached to his glasses which have enabled him to read textbooks and just about everything else, allowing his eye to develop normally.

Rich is just one of dozens of youngsters who have successfully been helped every year through the clinic. By supplying eye specialists and the technical know-how and funds, children previously regarded as hopelessly blind are helped so that they can function with at least partial eyesight.

Young people who were able to read only Braille are able to see large print for the first time. A high school student, with the help of a hand-held aid is able to work a cash register. Still other children who formerly could read only large print, can now read small print. These are but a few of the children who have been helped by the Lions since the program began in 1976.

At that time the program, a spinoff of the Lions Mobile Glaucoma (Eye) Screening program, was a natural step. In the former, a mobile unit

(van) travels the state under the sponsorship of the local club and offers free glaucoma screenings to some 15,000 adults annually.

With this screening program already in place, it was but a short step to arrange another stop at the Low Vision Clinic. There Lions provide the technical and volunteer services required while the professional services are provided by a resident from the University of Illinois who accompanies the van, and optometrists as well as optometry supplies and equipment supplied by the Illinois College of Optometry. The clinic is a project of the Lions of Illinois Foundation, the charitable and philanthropic agency of the Lions Clubs. It is offered free of charge and is funded by Lions Candy Day.

The foundation, headquartered in River Forest, coordinates all of the scheduling of manpower and supplies and the myriad details involved in arranging the clinic. According to foundation administrator Norman R. Dahl, "The Lions Low Vision Clinic is one of our most heartwarming stories—one which we hope to continue for many years to come."

Schedule Clinic

An immunization clinic is scheduled for Tuesday, Jan. 20, at Bristol Town Hall. The Kenosha County Health Dept. will conduct the clinic from 2-4 p.m.

Additional information is available by calling the Health Dept. at (414) 656-6434 or (800) 472-8608 (toll-free) and to be connected with the appropriate department.

College Sends Two To Leadership Program

For the third year, the College of Lake County (CLC) will have representatives participating in the "Leaders" program, an international leadership training program for two-year college women administrators.

Christine Sobek, director of personnel, and Patricia Kirchherr, director of placement and cooperative education, were two of 160 top women in management chosen to participate in the "Leaders" program.

In 1984, Carole Bulakowski, director of CLC's Learning Assistance Center, and Dorothy Regan, director of public relations, were selected to participate in the program. Mary Charuhas, associate dean of the Adult Continuing Education Div. was chosen for the program in 1986.

The "Leaders" program is designed to help women improve the skills they will need to assume major decision-making roles in two-year institutions. The program includes instruction and practice in supervisory and human relations skills, planning and budgeting, organizational transformation and discussions with national experts on the issues confronting two-year colleges during the next 15 years.

During the six-month project, participants will attend regional workshops and national conferences and will meet other women in top administrative positions. They will also be paired with mentors at their colleges to work on a research project that will aid their institution and will help them develop new skills.

Sobek, with the assistance of Don Holland, associate dean of the business division, will determine whether or not there is a role for the associate of arts degree in the human resources profession. If there is, Sobek will work with the business division in packaging existing human resource courses and in creating new ones.

Kirchherr plans to assess labor market information in CLC's district to assist CLC in providing alternative delivery systems. Charuhas will serve as her mentor in the project.

Sobek and Kirchherr were chosen for their interest in advancement in two-year college administration and the quality of their proposed projects.

The "Leaders" program is sponsored by the League for Innovation in Community Colleges, a consortium of community college districts in the United States and Canada, and by the American Assn. of Women in Community and Junior Colleges. The program is being conducted by the National Institute for Leadership Development at Rio Salado Community College of the Maricopa Colleges in Phoenix, Ariz.

Lake St. Dancers Add To Expo's Entertainment

Plans for Expo '87, the bridal show extravaganza sponsored by Lakeland Newspapers and Debbie's Floral of Mundelein, are moving right along.

The bridal show, consisting of both formal fashion shows featuring the latest in spring and summer bridalwear and others, held at poolside, featuring casual and honeymoon fashions, will be held at the Holiday Inn in Gurnee on Sunday, Jan. 18.

Topping the list of entertainment scheduled besides the fashion shows is a dance troupe known as the Lake St. Dancers.

These youthful terpsichorean delights, directed by Pam Lahey and Miss Irene, will be interspersed into the casual poolside fashion show, swinging their hips and delivering lovely messages with their hands as they do the Hawaiian Hula and other Polynesian dances.

The Lake St. Dancers will then don their silver lame tuxedos to do a "not to be missed" most appropriate chorus number, "Going To The Chapel" during the bridal fashion show.

They will be working along with the Dance Factory, WXLC's deejay Bud Mesner and ex-WKLC deejay Rich Roland, besides Merlin Productions in bringing delightful musical additions to Expo's already entertaining program.

The emcee for the bridal fashion show will be Karen Lavris, Mundelein, who is well known to local audiences for her enjoyable narrations of the Board of Realtors' fashion shows.

Pat Tennerman of Gurnee will be handling the microphone during the vacation fashion shows bringing her broad experience in narrating benefit shows with her.

The bridal fashions will be from Milady's Bridal of Bannockburn, the casualwear will be from the Hawaiian Shop in Evanston. There will be myriad booths featuring everything, from photography to the best in honeymoon trips, to help prospective Lake County brides and grooms plan the best wedding ever.

The Time Machine

50 YEARS AGO: Dec. 17, 1936

Antioch's Christmas festivities included a community sing, led by S.E. Pollack.

The program was arranged by the Antioch's Men's Club and the Antioch Post of the American Legion was in charge of gift distribution. Antioch Coal and Lumber provided candy gifts to hang on the tree, and the village board donated apples and oranges for the children.

Antioch residents could attend "Man's Will And Woman's Way" by the J.B. Rotnour Players. Complimentary tickets were available from the following Antioch Merchants; Reeve's Drug Store, Williams Bros. Department Store, Webb's Racket Store, Bud's Tavern, Shield of Quality Store, Antioch News, Keulman Bros. Grocery, Otto Klass, First National Bank, Lake St. Service Station, and The Chicago Footwear Co.

The Antioch Farmer's Exchange offered neck and ear muff sets for 29 cents, men's leather slippers for $1.79, children's mittens for 29 cents and ladies' corduroy suits for $3.75 each.

10 YEARS AGO: Dec. 15, 1976

J. Irving Walsh announced his candidacy for Mayor of Antioch. Walsh, employed at Rittenhouse and Embree Lumber Co., had served three terms as village trustee and was a member of the Antioch fire department for more than thirty years.

The Antioch News carried a syndicated column by none other than Ronald Reagan. The subject of this week's column? Interestingly enough, it was "What's The Remedy for The GOP?"

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

MY GRANDCHILDREN will simply adore sending their little Christmas wishes to Santa Claus this year. Look in this newspaper for all the details, but start sending those letters. Just imagine the look on their faces when they see Santa at the Enchanted Castle, and when he tells them he read their letter. It will be so special.

MANAGING TO KEEP KIDS in control until Christmas morning, when they can open their presents, is the theme of this week's holiday hint. You know how it goes, three days before Christmas the little darlings are begging and whining for their packages. This is what I did for my kids, am still doing for my grandchildren, and expect to do for my great-grandchildren. Put a sweater or a little something in the largest box you have. Tell the munchkins that they can have the big box, but must wait until Christmas for the rest. They think they've won, but we all know who was really pulling the strings on that one.

I CERTAINLY ENJOYED the Dicken's festival they had at good old ACHS. Charles Dickens is one of my favorite authors, and any celebration which honors him is O.K. by me. Did you know that Dickens was the modern equivalent of a Stephen King in his era? His writing was incredibly popular, and whenever he toured or lectured crowds of people gathered to listen. He was also one of the only people in his time to earn a living solely by writing fiction. As Pumblechook might say, "I knew that fact all along."

A LOT OF PEOPLE SAY the new editor for this paper (they do tend to come and go) is cuter than the one that just left. Well, they may think so, but I think the one that just left was kind of handsome. As a matter of fact (Antioch Rotary, please take notice), I think the one that just left could easily play a James Bond type character, or even a Charles Boyer role.

EARLY HAPPY HOLIDAY WISHES are in order, I think. I wish everyone reading a happy and safe holiday season, with many more to come. I especially want to say Merry Christmas to three Antioch youngsters, Mandy and Reggie Hughes, and Keri Gaa. These kids are really nice, and I'm sure Santa will have a large basket of goodies and presents for them upon his arrival.

Upjohn Recognizes Employees

Upjohn Healthcare Services, a home health care agency located in Barrington, Libertyville, and Woodstock, has recognized Claire Scheibler, RD, director of professional services (Medicare) and Sandra Keske, RN, director of professional services (Private Pay) for completing 10 years of employment. Keske, a resident of Round Lake Beach, joined Upjohn Healthcare Services in 1976 as a staff nurse in the Waukegan office. She became nursing supervisor in 1977; service director in 1978; and assistant director professional services in 1981. She has been active in the Continuity of Care organization and is presently recording secretary for the Illinois State Continuity of Care Assn.

Choirs Join Chamber Orchestra

by CAROLYN HAMMOND
(312) 395-6081

Christmas is almost here, and as it draws closer, time has seemed to speed. There never are enough hours in a day to do all the things you want or have to do.

There have been plenty of events here in Antioch lately to keep everyone busy. The presentation of the Christmas portion of "The Messiah" by local choir members and the Waukegan Chamber Orchestra was truly a "gift" to our community. As the beautiful music of Handel filled St. Peter's Church Sanctuary, it made one think we had a little bit of heaven here on earth.

The Lake Villa AARP had a delightful surprise at their Christmas dinner as guest Charles Youlben from the Antioch AARP entertained them with a variety of ditties from Scotland, England and Ireland and songs from our "old west." Known for his yodeling ability, Youlben traced the route in song as he followed the trail he traveled as he immigrated from Scotland. "It was the best move I ever made," he said. His finale was a falsetto rendition of "Ave Maria." He said, "I don't know if I can get through this." But he did, and it was utterly unbelievable and beautiful that he was able to hit such high notes.

It was on a high note that a good crowd was on hand at ACHS on Dec. 12 to watch a more earthy form of entertainment--high school wrestling. It was the second of three meets in three days. The night before the Varsity Team had beaten Lake Forest, and senior Dale Gade wrestling at 167 pounds had broken the ACHS record for the fastest pin to set a new mark of 30 seconds. This night they would go on to beat Mundelein. The following day, wrestling in the Rex Lewis Team Tournament at Buffalo Grove, the Sequoits would place third out of eight. Great work, boys!

Congratulations to Antioch Grade School kindergartener Jackie Seymour, winner of the grand prize in the recent school fundraiser.

Boy Scout Troop 190 held its first annual Christmas Potluck dinner for over 50 Scouts, family members and guests. Guess who else came? A hint: He likes red clothes, has a white beard and raises reindeer!

Liberty Lakes Is Not Compatible: Planner

by GLORIA DAVIS

It was a standing room only crowd at the county building as the Committee for the Incorporation of the Village of Liberty Lakes presented its incorporation proposal to the planning and zoning committee of the Lake County Board on Monday.

The hearing, though scheduled to take place earlier, started at 10:30 a.m. Dep. Dir. of the Lake County Planning Dept. Bob Mosteller made his recommendation on the proposal first, saying that the plan for incorporation was not compatible with the county's comprehensive framework plan, and adding that the tax base was not sufficient enough to supply the necessary services.

Atty. Newton Finn, representing the committee for Liberty Lakes, made his proposal next and was followed by Lane Kendig who represented the Village of Lake Villa. Kendig went down the Liberty Lakes proposal and at every place that the claim of compatibility with the county framework plan was made, refuted that claim.

Chairman of the planning and zoning committee, Eleanor Rostron adjourned the hearing promptly at noon as she had promised. The hearing will continue at 9:30 a.m. on Monday, Dec. 22.

Representatives of the Village of Lindenhurst are expected to voice that village's objection to the proposed incorporation. Round Lake Beach and Grayslake have officially come out against the creation of the village and Round Lake Heights is also considering filing an official objection.

Athlete of the Week

Antioch High School's Rick Korjenek was selected as the State Bank of Antioch's Player of the week on Dec. 12. Ed Rosch from State Bank, presents a plaque and a check for $50 to Rick. The money will be placed in the Parent-Teacher Scholarship Fund in Rick's name. Rick was named "Player of the Week" after scoring an average of 10.3 points per game in the Barrington Basketball Tournament. Varsity Basketball Coach Don Zeman is also present.

Night Of Long Knives Debuts In Board Room

by CHARLES JOHNSTON
Managing Editor

SAVE FOR ANDREA
Moore, the women on the Lake County Board are not faring well in the hardball politics that is dominating county politics.

appears to have been engineered by Strenger. The five crucial votes Rostron needed and did not get all came from Republicans allied with Strenger. Two, Strenger and Rick Price (R-Dist. 1) did not vote at all.

of course, Rostron is the latest casualty.

Though both Neal and LaBelle voted for Rostron, it is hard to imagine that, between them, the Republican chairman and the county board chairman could not muster up 13 votes if they really wanted to.

Both Rostron and Moore were formerly identified as being part of the independent Republican's faction. That faction views the ladies' support of LaBelle and the Heartland settlement as outright betrayal and is unlikely to welcome either back with open arms.

What I do not understand is how the regular Republican hierarchy plans to strengthen its hand on an evenly-split board by playing night of the long knives for two years.

I WISH ALL my readers, sources, and sources of amusement a very Merry Christmas. May the coming year be so busy that I never have to wonder what I'm going to write about.

I'm not worried about that, though. It appears that the problem with politics next year is going to be how to keep up with who's doing what to who.

Meanwhile, let's take a break, make our feasts, and think again about politics in January.

Merry Christmas!

Just Politics

Eleanor Rostron (R-Waukegan) was unalterably opposed to the reelection of Donald Strenger (R-Lake Forest) as president of the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. According to inside sources, though, the regulars needed both Strenger's and Rostron's vote to put together the coalition that reelected Jim LaBelle (R-Zion) board chairman.

The compromise reportedly was that in return for supporting Strenger for president of the forest preserve, the board would create a new position for Rostron: vice-president of the forest preserve. When the time came, the board did indeed create that position, but Matt Miholic (R-Waukegan) was elected to it 14-8 with two abstentions.

LaBelle and Lake County Republican chairman Bob Neal (R-Wadsworth) kept their word, both voting for Rostron. This double-cross

Three, Jim Fields (R-Antioch), Deloris Axelrod (R-Highland Park), and Jerry Beyer (R-Wauconda) voted for Miholic.

Now, two women who faithfully followed the party line have gotten stomped. Helen Belmont Amendola (R-Highland Park), who gave LaBelle the vote he needed to secure the chairmanship, was rewarded by being stripped of the vice-chairmanship and her committee chairmanships. And

Wilmot Grade Teachers Veto Board's Offer

WILMOT — It looks like the teacher contract negotiations at Wilmot Grade School will go to mediation-arbitration since the teacher's union rejected the Wilmot Board of Education's latest across-the-board increase offer of 8.9 percent last week.

School Board Treasurer Jerry Kramer said that the offer for another meeting with the teachers made by the board has been refused.

Sources say that the teachers are staying with their request for a 14 percent raise.

New Book Explores Early History Of Illinois Land

"The Illinois Country is more beautiful than any I could have imagined. Extending beyond eyesight are large prairies, covered with buffalo and other game, varied by groves of trees that appear like islands in the sea."

The words were those of George Rogers Clark, who first saw the "Illinois Country" in 1778 as he fought in the American Revolution. Clark's journal, together with the journals of early explorers, fur traders and missionaries in the Middle West, have been compiled for the first time in a single book—"Up Country: Voices from the Midwestern Wilderness." The book also includes early frontier art.

Many of the early French explorers, after long canoe trips from Canada, marveled at the beauty and abundance of the Illinois Country.

Sebastian Rasles wrote in 1699, "Of all the tribes in Canada, none live in such abundance as the Illinois. Bear and deer are found in great numbers. Buffalo and elk are seen in vast herds. The marshes are full of waterfowl: geese, ducks, teal, swans and many others—so many that when drought forces them from the marshes, they cover the lakes and rivers."

"The Illinois Country is without doubt the most beautiful I have ever seen," wrote Antoine Silvy in 1712. "Many animals live here: elk, deer, bear, lynx, beaver, otter and cougar. If cougars were as common as wolves, there would be few deer."

The explorers witnessed the hunting techniques of the natives. In 1680 Louis Hennepin watched Miami Indians hunt buffalo along the Illinois River. "When they find a herd, they gather in great numbers and set fire to the tall grass around the herd, leaving only a small passage where they take post with their bows and arrows. The buffalo, fleeing the fire, are forced to pass near the Indians, who sometimes kill as many as 120 in a day."

The Illinois Indians were widely respected for their skill in archery, as well as their stamina in the chase. Rasles wrote "Arrows are the weapons the Illinois use most often in war and the hunt. They hardly ever miss their aim, and they can shoot a hundred arrows in the time it takes another to load his gun."

Silvy noted, "When the Illinois find a herd of buffalo, the young men chase after them at a slow trot until they are within a half mile. Then they run with all their might to overtake them, shooting countless arrows from their bows."

Hunting the buffalo was dangerous. In 1673 Jacques Marquette wrote, "The buffalo are very fierce. When attacked, they catch a man on their horns if they can, throw him in the air, throw him to the ground, trample him underfoot, and kill him."

Claude Dablon noted that the natives believed hunting was a spiritual quest. "The savages believe each beast, fish and bird has a particular spirit who cares for it. These savages go four and five days without eating so that, having weakened the mind, they may see in a dream one of these spirits. They believe they cannot succeed in hunting the deer or bear unless they have seen them in dreams."

After killing an animal, the natives often honored its spirit. Alexander Henry, who was adopted into a Chippewa family in 1763, recalled such a ceremony.

Wrap Up ACHS Varsity Sports

In an Antioch High School wrap-up it was announced that the girls tennis team finished with a 5-8 record. Highlights of the season included a trip downstate for Colleen Mohr and Janine Belli.

Twenty-four girls competed at the varsity and junior varsity level.

At the varsity level, the Most Valuable Player is Colleen Mohr, the Most Improved Player is Joanne Shineflug. Team captains are Janine Belli and Colleen Mohr. At the junior varsity level, the Most Valuable Player is Kelly Doyle and the Most Improved player is Karen Adams.

The girls volleyball team had one of its best seasons ever. They finished third in the North Suburban Conference and won their regional for the second time in three years. Sherry Waldroup was chosen MVP and selected to the All-Conference team along with Michelle Pavelski. Julie Sexton was chosen Most Improved Player. Linda Sexton and Michelle Pavelski were co-captains.

The varsity golf season was very unique due to all the rain and the golf team not being able to use Spring Valley for two-and-a-half weeks. This contributed to a poor 4-6 overall season for the varsity. The varsity ended up in sixth place in conference with a 3-5 finish. The sophomore team placed third with a 6-2 season in conference play and 7-3 overall.

The bright spot this season was Rick Korjenek who qualified for the state meet in Pekin. Korjenek placed second in the conference meet, fifth in regionals and tied for sixth in the second sectional meet with a 79 to qualify for state. At the state meet, Rick shot a 79 and an 82 the two days to place 15th in the state.

Varsity letter winners are: Scott Bies, junior and team captain; Rick Korjenek, senior, Most Valuable Player; Mike Lawrence, senior; John Clark, junior; Scott Frasch, junior; and Ryan Ward, sophomore and Most Improved Player.

The 1986 varsity field hockey team finished the season with a 0-12 record. There were only two returning varsity letter winners so the team was very inexperienced. They became more competitive as they gained experience and finished the season with an exciting 1-0 loss to Deerfield (Deerfield finished second in the state tournament.)

Varsity letter winners were co-captains Cindy Lessard and Cindy Spronk; seniors Kelly Murray and Kelly Kaiser; juniors Melissa Slavik and Karen Spronk; sophomores Denise Bosk, Kelly Cain, Amber Howes and Jill Ozga.

Others who played at least part of the season on the varsity team were sophomore Jennifer Haley and frosh Tonya Tointon. Manager was Katie Cary. Cindy Lessard was selected Most Valuable Player, and both Lessard and Cindy Spronk were chosen to the second team of the All-State Hockey Team.

The girls cross-country team finished its season with a dual meet record of 6-2. Along with their second place finish at the NSC conference meet, the girls finished third in the conference. In invitational throughout the season the girls always placed in the top five teams.

All-conference runners were senior Jenny Staerk,

Junior Cori Mitchen, sophomore Liz Waters and freshman Michelle Hansen. All-County runner were sophomore Liz Waters and freshman Michelle Hansen. In state competition, the girls qualified for the state sectional meet.

The team captain was senior Jenny Staerk. Most Improved Player was freshman Wendy Coskey, and Most Valuable Player was sophomore Liz Waters.

Varsity letter winners are senior Jenny Staerk, junior Cori Mitchen, sophomore Liz Waters, frosh Julie Brandt, Wendy Coskey, Michelle Hansen, Wendy Meyer and Barb Wann.

The cross-country boys team finished their best dual meet season since joining the north suburban conference, finishing with a dual meet record of 4-4 and a fifth place finish in the overall conference standings.

The Most Valuable Player is Bill Skupien, senior. Team captain is Bill Skupien, and Most Improved Player is sophomore Joe Fikejs.

Varsity letter winners are seniors John Carley, Bill Johnson, Bill Skupien, and Vince Zalapi; juniors Brett DeRouse, Tim McDonald and Dennis Wunn; sophomores Jason Campbell and Joe Fikejs; and frosh Chris Beattie.

The 1986 Antioch Community High School varsity football team finished in a tie for sixth place in the NSC. The Sequoia completed the season with a record of three wins and six losses.

Varsity team honors, as voted by the team, are Most Valuable Players, Jim Smith; team captain, defense, Sean Tuley; team captain, offense, Tom Durell.

All Presidents Alike With Second Term Woe

by JOHN STEINKE

Second terms of U.S. Presidents have a tendency to coast downhill. Once again, we'll discuss the reenlistment blues of our chief executives. President Andrew Jackson (1829-1837) kept the economy strong and held the union together for the time being at least, when South Carolina bucked the protective tariff in 1832. Jackson viewed his reelection as a mandate to destroy the Bank of the United States. Jackson won the war, but bequeathed to his successors worsening economic woes, quickening financial panic and a political factionalism.

Steinke On Politics

President Ulysses S. Grant developed reasonable reconstruction remedies to readmit the southern states to the Union following the Civil War. Grant saw scandals and a depression emerge in his second term. He too left office lamenting how his "failures have been errors of judgement, not intent." The Grant Administration (1869-1877) has been characterized as the First Era of Good Stealing in American presidential history.

Democratic President Grover Cleveland found his second coming, in 1893, tougher than his first term (1885-1889). There was a financial panic raging, a deep depression occurring, workers' heads cracking (as Federal troops ended the Pullman strike), and doctors operating, secretly aboard a yacht, on the President's jaw cancer. Healed in body but not in spirit, Cleveland became a pariah during his own party's 1896 convention. Cleveland retired from office, bemoaning his "poor old battered name" once held in high regard.

President Woodrow Wilson (1913-1921) created the Federal Trade Commission, organized the Federal Reserve system and strengthened the antitrust laws during his opening term. In addition, Wilson "kept us out of war" when World War I erupted in Europe. But war came in his second term and this played up his lack of military preparedness. The war's triumphs were tempered by Wilson's intolerance. He was unable to negotiate with our European allies on German reparations. Wilson also failed to compromise with his Senate foes on the ratification of the Versailles Treaty. As a result, he won World War I (1917-1918) but lost the League of Nations.

Back in 1932, the voters rejected Republican President Herbert Hoover during the Great Depression of the 1930's. In repudiating Hoover, however, the voters did not consciously give Franklin D. Roosevelt a mandate to launch the New Deal. The mandate was a negative one: stop the Hoover depression. Yet that was enough for FDR to start his social and economic revolution. The first 100 days of FDR's administration laid the foundation of the New Deal programs. Roosevelt struck while the iron was hot, while he still had political momentum.

President Roosevelt is often cited as a classic example of a second term let-down: a bad recession and botched attempts to pack the Supreme Court and to purge conservative Democratic Congressmen in the 1938 primaries. FDR was frustrated by Supreme Court decisions declaring some of his New Deal policies unconstitutional. He proposed enlarging the court in order to shift the balance away from its conservative majority. What became known as his plan to "pack" the court failed in Congress when it drew strong public opposition.

But the coming of World War II, our last popular war, pumped new life into the economy and Roosevelt's political fortunes. By 1940, the country was rallying round the flag, and FDR won an unprecedented third term. In 1944, Roosevelt captured a fourth term because the nation didn't want to repudiate the commander-in-chief in the midst of World War II against Nazi Germany and Japan.

Presidential Search Narrows

One of 12 candidates will be selected as the new president of the College of Lake County.

The field was narrowed at a special meeting of the CLC Presidential Search Committee earlier this month. The decision is expected in mid-January.

"The board is very pleased with the quality of applicants who have been identified to date in the search," Millicent Berliant, president of the CLC board, said.

The board had set the following standards for the new presidential candidates: experience in employee relations, staff development, curriculum management, program planning, enrollment management and marketing.

Second, the board is requiring an advanced degree. A doctorate is preferred but not required.

Third, legislative and community relations skills is a requirement. Also, an open management style and relevant university administrative experience.

Teaching experience and a familiarity with the Illinois systems would be an asset, according to the board's list.

Members of the search committee are: Ralph Edwards, vice-president of Abbott Laboratories and a member of the Board of Directors of the CLC Foundation; Virginia Schulte of Highland Park, chairperson of the CLC General Advisory Committee and five representatives from the college faculty, administration and staff. Staff members on the committee are: Dr. Randolph Webster, dean of student services; faculty members Sue Wunderlich and Jerry Kroll and staff members Peggy Pugsek and Jan Corban.

'Tis Season To Drive Safely

Secretary of State Jim Edgar urges all motorists to observe safe driving habits during the upcoming holiday season. The week of Dec. 14-20 has been designated National Drunk and Drugged Driving Awareness Week.

"Each holiday season, there is a significant increase in the number of accidents that are alcohol or drug related," said Edgar. "Drunk driving can not only ruin a holiday, it can ruin lives."

The theme for this year's holiday driving campaign in Illinois is "'Tis the Season to Drive Safely." Edgar commended members of the Illinois Restaurant Assn., the beverage industry and other groups for playing an active role in the campaign by distributing table placards containing the theme.

Edgar said the designated driver program was one way to practice safe driving.

"Christmas and New Year's are a time for celebration but no one wants to see holiday reveling turned into tragedy," he said. "By choosing one's driver who doesn't drink at a party, others can guarantee a safe ride home for themselves."

Edgar said proper attitude is the best deterrent, and the only long term way to eliminate drunk driving.

"Since Illinois' new DUI law took effect last January, over 40,000 drunk drivers have received swift and certain punishment through the loss of their driving privileges. But the very best deterrent to drunk driving is simply to act responsibly and not drive or let our loved ones drive if they've had too much to drink."

Statistics for the state's new DUI law show that over 40,000 people have lost driving privileges due to drunk driving. Edgar said the figures continue to show that DUI offenders lose their driving privileges in nine out of 10 cases.

The new law, authored by Edgar, calls for an automatic drivers license suspension for three months for failing a blood alcohol test. Refusing a test results in a six-month suspension.

Elect Tysko Director

Walter W. Tysko, president of Libertyville Federal Savings and Loan Assn., has been elected a director of the Illinois League of Savings Institutions. The Illinois League is the statewide trade association serving the state's 268 savings and loan associations and savings banks. Tysko joins a board of 25 directors and officers for a three-year term. A CPA, he joined Libertyville Federal in 1981 and was named to his present position in 1985. He is a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and treasurer of the Lake County League of Savings Institutions.

Christmas Around The World

The 45th annual 'Christmas Around the World' Festival will be featured through Jan. 4 at Chicago's Museum of Science and Industry. Forty of the city's nationalities and ethnic groups will be represented in the yuletide gala highlighted by a forest of Christmas trees, creches, free weekend theatre performances, international buffets, hundreds of choral groups, a Christmas Shoppe, and an International Pastry Cafe. Putting finishing touches on the tree are, from left, German representatives Hans and Margaret Zaage, Marlene Klink, and Ursula Sheehan. The museum is at 57th St. and Lakeshore Dr. Hours are 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays, 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Saturdays, Sundays and holidays. Admission and parking are free.

Kemper Takes Spike Out Of Holiday Punch

The traditional holiday office party isn't what it used to be, as some companies toast the season, and their employees, in a new way.

Take the Long Grove-based Kemper Group, for instance. For the second consecutive year, Kemper has invited its employees to stop by the staff lounge after work on Dec. 17 for a holiday reception and a drink—a non-alcoholic one that is.

"We want to encourage our employees to serve or drink non-alcoholic beverages at holiday parties from which they or their guests will be driving afterwards," said Gerrit Starke, vice president in charge of human resources at Kemper.

The reception will coincide with National Drunk and Drugged Driving Awareness Week, Dec. 14-20.

A booklet with recipes for the drinks served and other non-alcoholic drink recipes submitted by employees will be distributed free at Kemper's reception.

So far in 1986, five people have died and 37 have been injured because of drunk driving accidents in Lake County. At the end of October, 37,680 Illinois residents had suspended licenses for drunk driving, and 2,612 of them were in Lake County. This is a four-fold increase from the comparable period in 1985.

Under Illinois' drunk driving law, if convicted for driving under the influence (DUI), a first-time offender faces a one-year license revocation, up to a year in prison, and a fine of up to $1,000. Repeat offenders also face a mandatory 48 hours in jail or 10 hours of public service. The first refusal to submit to a chemical test can result in a six-month driver's license suspension. Second or subsequent refusals can result in a one-year suspension.

The Lake County Sheriff's Dept. and Crime Stoppers are seeking information on a series of armed robberies which have been occurring in the Ingleside, Fox Lake and Round Lake Beach areas from August through December of this year. The robberies occurred at the White Hen Pantry located on Fairfield Rd. in Round Lake Beach; at the 76 Kwik Pantry on Rte. 59 and Wilson Rd, Ingleside; and the Kwik Pantry on Rte. 12 in Fox Lake. All of these robberies took place in the early morning hours.

The description of the offender is basically the same in all cases. He is a white male, 18 to 30 years of age, five feet ten inches in height, weighing 175 pounds or less.

Anyone having information about this or any other felony crime or felony fugitive is urged to contact Crime Stoppers at (312) 662-2222.

If the information results in an arrest and indictment, the caller will be eligible for a cash reward of up to $1,000.

Remember, Crime Stoppers wants the information, not your name.

Place For Recreation

The sighs of relief that a major racetrack will not be built in Lake County far outweigh the handwringing going on that Arlington Park will be rebuilt at its present location. Even before the relocation of Arlington Park became a public issue, recreation was a major industry in Lake County. It will continue to be. So will our love affair with horses, for that matter.

We hope that the Arlington Park experience hasn't soured county leaders and investors on the recreation and entertainment industry. If anything, the experience shows that there is a new appreciation in Springfield among legislators of the impact on revenues and employment of recreation business. Discounting all the politicking and trading that went into the twin deal to rebuild Arlington and build a new White Sox stadium, the reality is that political leaders have revealed themselves to be attentive to needs of the recreation industry. Frankly, we're tired of the purists and do-gooders who look down their noses at any business dealing with fun or good times.

While we don't bewail the loss of Arlington, we look forward to other recreation/entertainment business proposals. There's a place for them in this locality.

Brighter Main Street

A prominent Chicago real estate consultant sees the end of the "mall of America," the shopping center phenomenon that saw U.S. shopping centers grow from 7,600 in 1964 to more than 24,700 in 1984. Richard J. Roddewig says he regards the shopping mall, the regional center of approximately 100 stores, as a mature—perhaps even old—retailing concept.

Opponents of shopping malls, ranging all the way from small town retailers to open space advocates, undoubtedly will greet Mr. Roddewig's views with hurrahs. Much as Americans have taken shopping malls to their hearts, there is considerable opinion that the proliferation of regional shopping hubs should be referred to as the "mauling of America."

Roddewig sees four trends as auguring well for central business districts in smaller towns, like the ones that have suffered hereabouts in the last two decades.

First, local initiative to survive is evident in a number of towns with a heritage and character that can be identified; two, market segmentation; three, rise of "specialty retailing;" four, changing shopping patterns brought on by the "baby boom" generation which stresses convenience and willingness to spend more.

As an unreconstructed "main streeter," we find great interest in Mr. Roddewig's views. Another factor that could be added to the revitalization of traditional central business districts is that the newfound entrepreneurial spirit afoot in America is finding its expression on main street rather than in the malls because of lower rents and lesser costs of doing business.

What all this means, in our viewpoint, is that the outlook for Main Street now is brighter than in a long time. We see this as a benefit to all, especially the consumer.

Merits Of Merit Selection

House Speaker Michael Madigan, the Chicago Democrat who has as much to say as anyone about what goes on in Illinois government, is ready to embrace merit selection of judges. Madigan, a longtime opponent of merit selection, explained that his shift is based on whether appointments can be kept out of the governor's hands.

In discussing his change of heart not long ago, Madigan predicted that the issue of judicial merit selection will be revived in the General Assembly next spring. Merit selection of judges is one of those off and on propositions that has been around a long time, usually surfacing when it will service some specific political purpose. It can be presumed that Speaker Madigan has a specific purpose in mind.

The merit selection plan most often discussed involves establishment of a panel to recommend judicial appointments with the final selection made by the governor. The Democratic leader said he favors election of the state Supreme Court with an appointment procedure for lower courts. The Republican position runs along the lines of adoption by voters of a constitutional amendment giving selection powers to the governor.

There is no question that the present system has provided for abuses over the years, especially in Cook County where it can be argued that one-party dominance is as much to blame for bad judges as the system of selection. We have a hard time dealing with any system that takes control out of the hands of the people, whether it be legislative, judicial or administrative offices in question.

A compromise might be in order where higher courts would be filled through election by the people and the local courts filled through an administrative procedure based on merit. Such an approach is worth debate. Meanwhile, knowing Illinois politics, everyone will do well to keep an eye on Speaker Madigan, being prepared to deal with his future utterances on merit selection of judges, whatever they might be.

Yuletide Season Grows Shorter And Shorter

by BILL SCHROEDER

Here and gone before you know it. That's the Yule season, and now we're on the countdown for the arrival of Santa.

Sad but true, the hustle and bustle of the season is the exact opposite of what it should be: a time to wind down, reflect and dwell on the spirit of Christmas—Peace on earth, goodwill toward men.

Let's be thankful that there are those among us who still have time to enjoy the Yuletide season, mostly children and our senior citizens. I'll trade all of St. Nick's bounty to hear the happy chatter of expectant little ones or see the glint of joy in the eyes of the elderly at receiving some simple Yuletide remembrance.

So deck the halls. Time is fleeting.

TREES, TREES, TREES—Is it my imagination or are there more people in the Christmas tree selling business this year? The market seems to be saturated. A lot of candidates for the 12th Night burning ceremonies are available.

After pulling needles from the living room carpet for three months and experiencing apoplexy from countless uncloggings of the vacuum cleaner, we went the route of an artificial tree several years ago and never have been sorry.

SAD HOLIDAY—Unfortunately, not all the holiday news is bright and cheery this time of year. Esther Hansen, an 86-year-old widow, is heart sick that hooligans have stripped her yard of decorations and outdoor lights erected by her son.

Mrs. Hansen said that neighbors and authorities appear insensitive to her plight "Why are they picking on an old lady?" she asks.

Letters To The Editor:

Disgusting Article

Editor:

In reference to the "Steinke on Politics" article Nov. 13, I would like to say it was one of the most disgusting articles I've ever read. It is not necessary to kick a person when they're down.

Name calling, such as "Nitwit-wiler" and "nit-wit model" is lacking in good taste and is an insult to your readers' intelligence. Whether Donna Mae Litwiler graduated from high school or not was not the issue. I can mention two men whom I know who never graduated from high school who were very successful businessmen.

An article with a little empathy in it, such as "Too bad, Donna Mae—better luck next time," would have been a much more appreciated a decent approach. Whether you're for a candidate or not, one should have the decency to write an article that is not considered abusive. I believe your paper owes Donna Mae an apology.

Sweet Victory

Editor:

For some of us who reside in Lake County's Newport Twp., the Duchossois move back to Arlington Park was a sweet victory.

Yet, Lake County voters should reflect upon the behavior and actions of their elected officials.

It appears that Mr. Duchossois used them and the Lake County race track idea as a well-orchestrated ploy and our elected officials fell for it "hook, line and sinker."

Our officials, including Mr. LaBelle, Senators Barkhausen and Geo-Karis, and Representatives Matijevich and Churchill, along with Bob Neal, worshipped at the multi-million dollar altar of Mr. Duchossois, yet their pastoral leader left them "high and dry."

The citizens of Lake County should reflect upon what the loss of the Old Mill race track really means. The Duchossois' wanted to

MARINES THANKED—Hats off to the Marine Corps Reserve for another bang-up job with Toys for Tots. Gathering toys for unfortunate children has become a tradition with the Marines. We consider their work as much a part of our Christmas as the Salvation Army bellringers and family attendance at the midnight candlelight church service. Thanks, Marines.

HIGH GEAR—Even with the holidays still before us, workers for the St. Therese Janssen Foundation annual benefit dinner-dance are working overtime.

Co-chairmen of this year's affair, set for Feb. 7 at Marriott Lincolnshire Resort, are Paul Pavelski, Antioch banker, and Dr. John Van Nuys. The event will have a Valentine theme. Starting out two years ago as basically a social event, the dinner-dance has evolved into a major fundraiser for the foundation to benefit the needy.

A contribution for $50 per person will enable you to join the fun. Pavelski and Van Nuys are working hard at obtaining corporate sponsorships. For those unable to attend, contributions are being accepted in any amount.

ONE MAN'S FAMILY—It'll be a different kind of Christmas in our family this year. The patriarch will be missing, but two 1986 weddings will swell the ranks of the offspring. The lady of the house will be working overtime (as usual) to make sure the season is festive and meaningful for all. Thank heaven for caring moms! I'm hoping that everyone will take time to pause in their individual pursuits to come together to enjoy the time and meaning of Christmas. We'll see. Here's wishing one and all a Christmas with joy and purpose. Happy holidays!

return to Arlington Park. The Lake County site was proposed as an alternative, but only as a distant second choice.

Our elected officials were used by the Duchossois group and they were not gifted enough to see through the plan.

Only Representative Matijevich faced the reality, after the Friday vote, and admitted that the Duchossois group probably never wanted to move to Lake County. Thank you, John Matijevich, for your honesty and shame on the remainder of our "far-sighted" elected officials who were victims of a slicker, more advanced con.

The "egg" that remains upon the faces of our elected officials will take a long time to be removed.

Money At Root

Editor:

As an alumnus of Warren Twp. High School (Class of '69), it has been with great interest that I've followed the stories on the proposed deannexation of Arbor Vista from Warren Twp. to Libertyville. However, all along there has been one thing that has bothered me. It is so obvious, I felt it would have appeared in print long before now. However, in your Dec. 4 edition, via the testimony of Mr. Mattingly, it came to light. That one thing is money.

Since the beginning, I have felt the parents of Arbor Vista were less concerned with their children's education than with their own social status. I'm sure they feel mixing with the Libertyville families could only improve said status. Let's face the facts, Warren Twp. has always been considered less affluent than Libertyville for as long as I can remember. I'm sure being associated with the "poor relations" has irked some Arbor Vista residents over the years, but only in the money-oriented 1980s would it become an issue over which the children would suffer. And that, people, is a sad commentary on priorities.

Sweatshirts, Suspenders Season's Sure Sellers

by GLORIA DAVIS

Everyone has people on their Christmas list that just seem to have everything, so choosing a gift for them is not an easy task.

Paul Costello of Marshal Fields' public relations department claims to have the perfect solution for that problem, provided that one's check book has everything, which in this case means at least a five figure balance.

For the men of ambience on that list there is a cashmere robe with a jacquard lining for a mere $1,250. It's that jacquard lining that does it!

Or how about a pair of silk suspenders for $85 a pair; or a pair of cashmere argyle socks at $16 a pair. (We'll take three pair of each!)

Anyone who likes their man to smell of Polo can give him an alligator belt with a sterling silver buckle by the same manufacturer, priced at $315.

And if those goodies aren't tempting, how about tartan slippers for $85 or that most "in" item of all, a solid color, simple but tasteful, cashmere sweatshirt that carries a price tag of $450.

For that gal that needs nothing, Fields' is featuring a $16,000 ranch mink coat, a $700 handmade gold evening bag, a pair of $2,600 crocodile boots; slippers, $1,200 and pumps for $1,375.

If she will be the hostess with the mostess this holiday season, adorn her with a $700 pane velvet floor-length hostess skirt, topped by a rhinestone elephant brooch designed by the same craftsman often used by Diana, princess of Wales.

Finish the outfit off with a wide sterling cuff bracelet for $500 and don't forget, for her more casual moments, why not pick up a pair of Ralph Lauren's cashmere knee-socks for just $100 a pair.

For a really opulent present, especially for those who appreciate fine art, the grandson of the famous Faberge family has designed and signed hand-blown and hand-painted lead crystal eggs, each an individual design, for $1,500 apiece. We bet no one will get duplicates of this one!

For those that are very conscious of giving up-to-date and very "with-it" gifts, Costello claims that these are the most wanted items this year.

The overall most popular items for everyone, regardless of sex, size, age and financial status are sweatshirts and sweaters.

For men, suspenders of various colors, materials and patterns (including roosters and silver dollars) are the hottest of the hot items.

An unusual gift for lovers of the out-of-doors is a "fish" tie, designed by Ralph Marlin (strange but true.)

These designer ties feature one big fish. Maybe that special guy will be thrilled with wearing a designer tuna, a big mouth bass, a northern pike or a king salmon around his neck.

For women, the most popular gift is any kind of sweater, with cashmere, angora and novelty sweaters leading the Christmas fashion parade.

Then comes glitz and glitter, all silvery and golden, shimmering and shiny, especially in the sequin tops, dresses, and gold and silver lame-like outfits.

Really big earrings, bejeweled and chunky necklaces and pins are selling for gals in the fashion know!

Teenage fellas like rough and ready clothes, athletic equipment and anything that plays rock music.

All teens are layering everything, with female teenagers loving the oversized sweatshirt, underscored by another shirt and a turtle neck, worn over tight leggings. Fancy velvet dresses and big bows all over everything, from the backs of their overly fussy party dresses to the top of their hairdoes, are also big teen gift items.

The Rocker and Astronaut Barbie is the most asked for toy for little girls at Fields and model electric trains are back in the favor of little boys.

Any toy that talks, from monkeys, to parrots, to dolls, to robots, to bears, are selling out fast.

Speaking of bears, again this year, old Teddy is beating out even the Cabbage Patch Dolls.

Now that you know what everybody seems to want, why not just sit down and write out a bunch of checks and let the people on that Christmas list decide if they want to be trendy or not.

It may not be in the real spirit of Christmas, but the giver's spirits will be better the day after Christmas when they don't have to stand in those exchange lines.

Hospitals Join Project

Saint Therese Medical Center and Victory Memorial Hospital are in the process of jointly preparing a Certificate of Need to establish a Magnetic Resonance Service in Lake County.

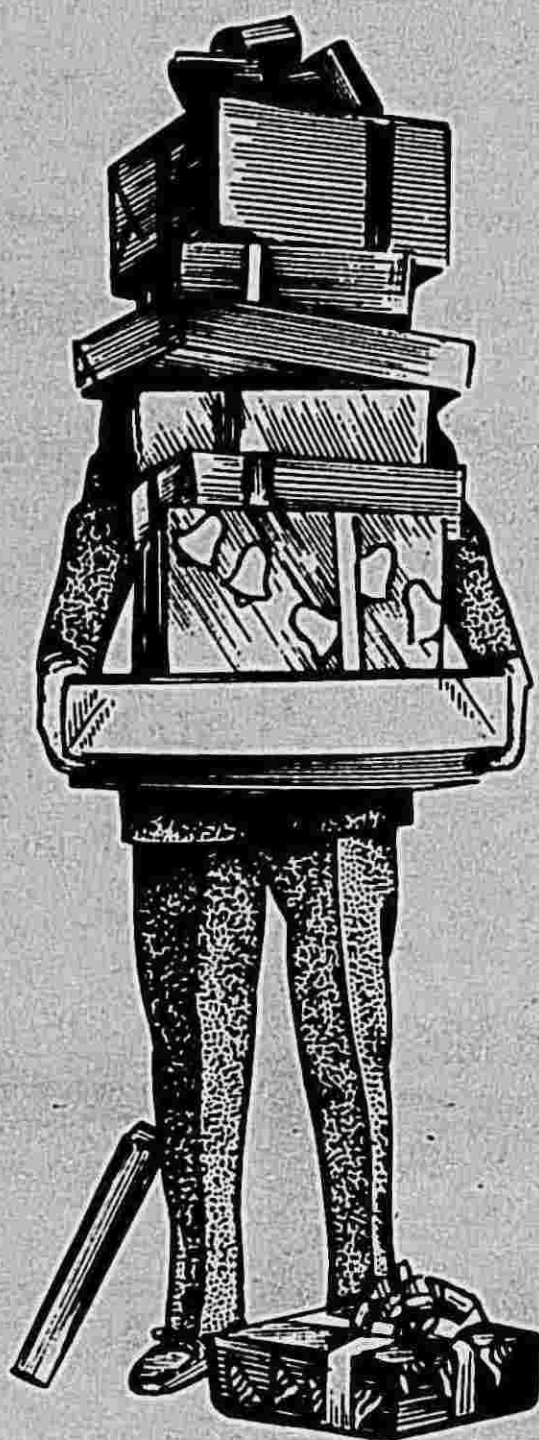

The Waukegan-based hospitals, which will soon have a Certificate of Need completed, are filing the request with the Illinois Health Facilities Planning Board.

Nora C. O'Malley, Saint Therese president, said the proposed service will be a mobile unit located at a mutually agreeable site between both hospitals. She said the unit will be able to handle both inpatients and outpatients, and will be operational at least two or three days a week.

"This is the first significant joint venture that Victory Memorial Hospital, Saint Therese Medical Center and their physicians have engaged in and I am proud to be a part of it. I think it is wonderful to see the two hospitals cooperate," O'Malley said in the interest of containing health care costs in our community.

Victory President Donald Wasson also is very excited about the project. "I think it will lead to bigger and better things for both of us. It is just another way of showing how both institutions are growing and expanding to meet the needs of Lake County residents," he said.

January License Plates Must Be Purchased Now

Secretary of State Jim Edgar reminded motor vehicle owners with passenger license plates expiring in December to buy their renewal stickers and/or new plates at a Secretary of State facility or financial institution. It is now too late to send applications by mail and receive stickers and plates before the Dec. 31 expiration date.

Stickers and/or plates for company-owned passenger vehicles are available at Secretary of State facilities in Springfield and Chicago, and at more than 1,550 financial institutions, including 762 banks, 194 savings and loan associations, 24 credit unions and about 600

Chicago-area currency exchanges.

Effective Thursday, Jan. 1, 1987, anyone driving a vehicle with an expired sticker or plate will be subject to a fine for improper registration.

Edgar also announced that the deadline to display 1987 calendar-year Illinois apportionment plates on trucks, truck tractors, buses and trailers under the International Registration Plan, and prorate base plates and decals, has been extended to midnight, Feb. 28, 1987, in accordance with the other 35 states and one Canadian province that are jurisdictional members of the plan.

Some Taxpayers Must Pay Estimate

Taxpayers who receive income not subject to withholding, or who receive wages that are not fully covered by withholding, may be required to make estimated tax payments, the IRS said.

According to the IRS, over 11 million estimated tax payments totalling $54.3 billion are made by individual taxpayers each year. Estimated tax payments are generally required by taxpayers who are self-employed, and from individuals who receive interest, dividends, capital gains, rent, pensions and other types of income. Taxpayers who are liable for additional taxes such as the alternative minimum tax, tax from recapture of investment credit, social security, tax on tips, or tax on an IRA may also be required to make estimates.

Individuals who have determined that they are required to make estimated payments generally submit them to the IRS in four equal installments during the year. The installment amounts may be adjusted upward or downward depending on changes in a taxpayer's income. The essential thing to remember, IRS cautions, is that for 1986 the installments must cover 80 percent of the federal tax liability, including any credits for withholding by an employer, financial institution or tax overpayments credited from a prior year's tax return. (The installment amounts increase to 90 percent for 1987.) Taxpayers who fail to meet the estimated tax payment requirements are subject to an underpayment of estimated tax penalty.

The installment due dates for making estimated tax payments, except for farmers, are April 15, June 15, Sept. 15 and Jan. 15. Farmers have an alternative to the estimated tax payment requirements if at least two-thirds of their gross income is from farming. They may make one estimated tax payment on or before Jan. 15, or need not make any installment if they elect to file their federal tax return and pay the total tax due by March 2.

The IRS has two publications which discuss estimated tax payment requirements: Publication 505, Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax, and Publication 225, Farmers Tax Guide. These publications, along with the estimated tax payment vouchers, can be ordered from the IRS by calling, toll-free, (800)424-FORM.

Marengo Next League Test For NWSC Leader Grant

When it comes to Northwest Suburban Conference basketball, there is one team all the others can measure themselves by.

That team, Marengo, is Grant's next hurdle if the Bulldogs are to continue their first-place standing.

"The game is very important in the NWSC scheme of things. If we are to be a contender, then we are going to have to beat the other contenders at home," Grant coach Tom Maple said.

The Bulldogs are heading into the NWSC home showdown Dec. 19 off two more victories last week. Grant got past Round Lake 71-58 and then topped McHenry 59-50 to better its record to 6-1 overall, 4-0 in league tilts.

Marengo, on its way to a Sweet Sixteen showing in Class A, beat Grant twice last year.

"I think we're a much improved club than last year," Maple said.

Improvement is what the other area league teams will be hoping for Dec. 19. Round Lake will be looking to break a three-game losing streak at Lake Zurich, Grayslake is at Marian Central and Wauconda is at Johnsburg.

Against Round Lake, Grant used a strong start and held off the Panthers in the second half to claim the victory.

The Bulldogs started with a 22-10 lead after eight minutes as Grant kept Round Lake from getting the ball to its one-two punch, Bob Akers and Jim Bills.

NWSC Roundup

Dan Kiesgan, a 6'5" center, scored 26 points to lead all scorers. Mike MacDonald had 14 and Mike Kazlauskas had 13. Bob Richardson and Akers had 14 apiece for Round Lake.

Grant committed nine second-quarter turnovers but still was in charge at halftime, as Round Lake could only trim two points off the Grant advantage.

Grant seemingly had the game wrapped up when Kazlauskas's fast-break layup gave the hosts a 48-32 lead with 1:30 left in the third quarter.

Round Lake then made a strategy change which cut the lead to six by the middle of the fourth quarter.

"We turned up our intensity. But we also found five kids who played their hearts out," Round Lake coach Bob Ward said.

The closest Round Lake got was 57-51 on a Frank Russell free throw with 3:10 left. Grant then made six of seven free throws down the stretch to claim the win.

Grant made it a double victory weekend, winning a non-league dual at McHenry the next night.

Ron Richford and Kiesgan showed the way, scoring 18 and 16 points as Grant won 59-50.

The Bulldogs overcame McHenry rallies in the third quarter and their own poor free-throw shooting (17-for-34) in the contest.

Round Lake lost to Woodstock 78-71 in a non-league battle to fall to 4-2.

Grayslake will be one of the teams hoping for a comeback when the Rams face Marian Central Dec. 19.

The Rams, who started the year by winning the Johnsbury Thanksgiving tourney, now has slipped to 4-3 overall, 1-1 in league play.

Lake Zurich used an 8-0 start and its superior inside play to defeat the Rams 69-50.

"Lake Zurich is a good ballclub. They had three guys on the floor over 6'3"," Grayslake coach Greg Groth said.

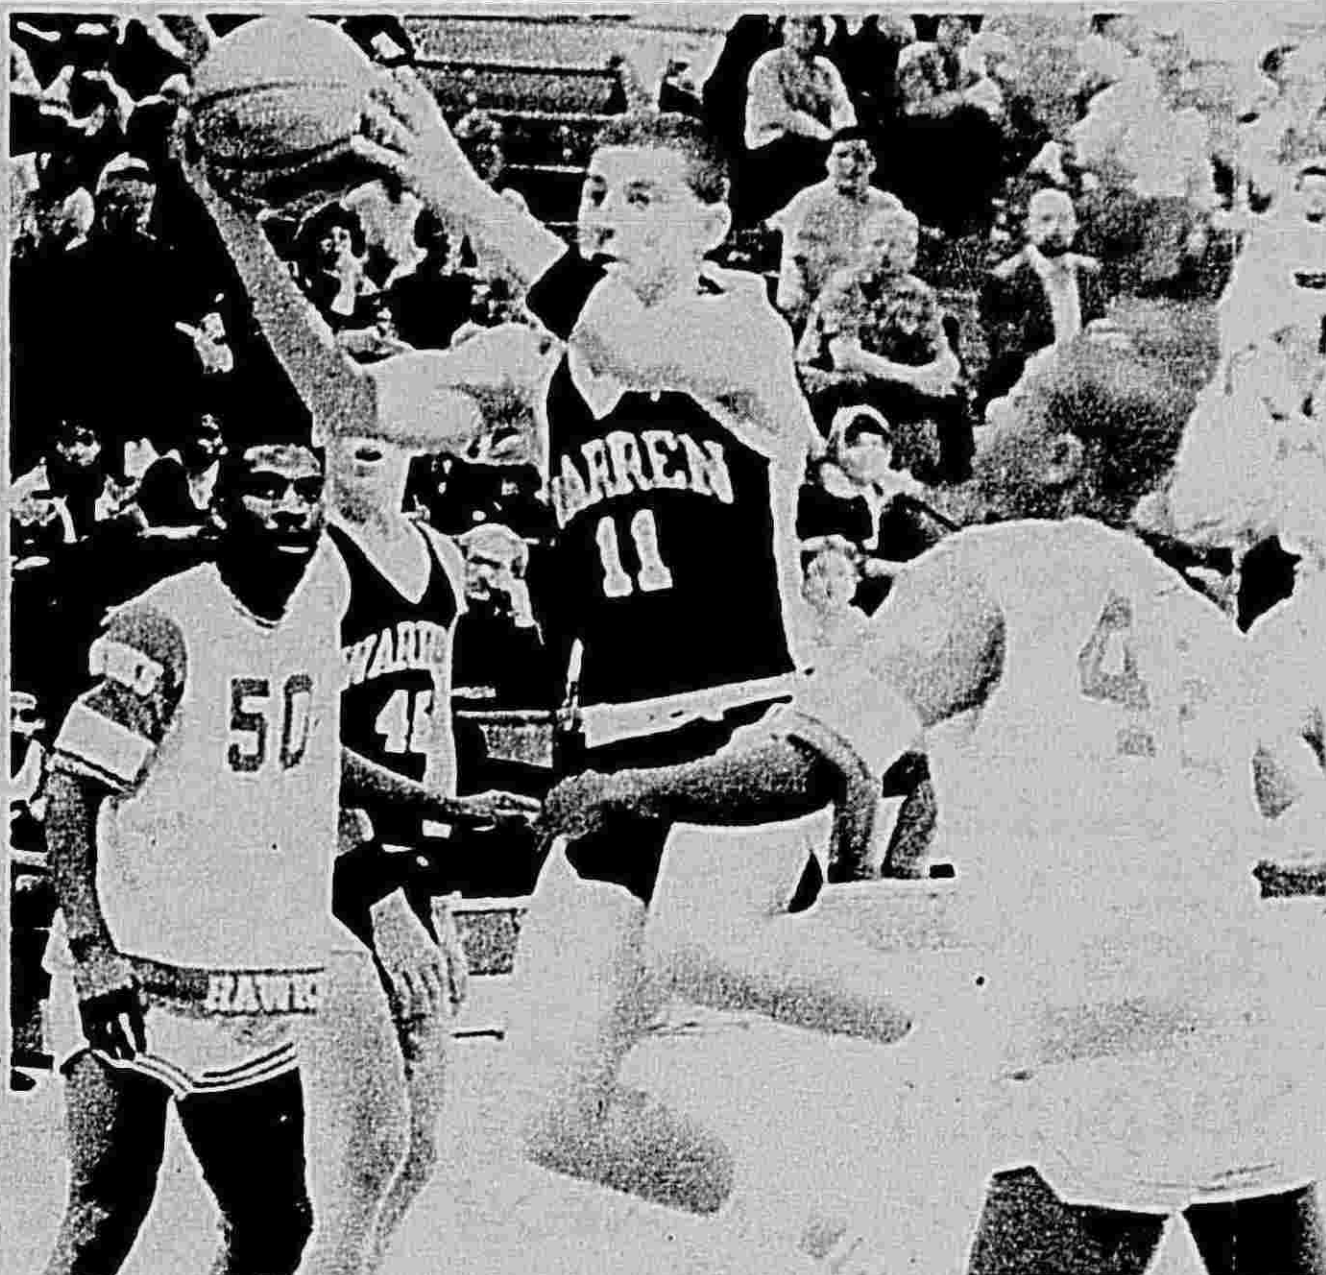

Lake Zurich kept the Rams from getting the ball inside. The Bears also stopped Andrew Flood, a key ingredient for Grayslake's offense.

"They really shut down Andrew. We need him to score in order to win," Groth said.

Timm West had 18 to lead Grayslake and Butch Lenoir had 15, but it was a matter of not enough scorers for GCHS.

"We need to have more than one or two guys scoring," Groth said.

The coach said the Rams had trouble getting second shots, as LZ dominated the boards.

CHS Strives For Consistent Showing In League Battle

Carmel basketball coach Frank Belmont will be looking for more consistency when the Corsairs travel to Marist Dec. 19.

"I think we have to become more of a consistent unit. In both games last week, we got down early. We have to eliminate that first period lull if we are to be a good basketball team," Belmont said.

The Corsairs split two East Suburban Catholic Conference games last week - losing to league leader St. Patrick 62-55 but bouncing back and beating St. Viator 59-52. CHS is 4-2 overall, 2-1 in ESCC play.

The Corsairs fell behind 27-15 in the first half against St. Patrick.

Carmel rallied on the strength of a 12-2 surge to take a 37-33 lead in the third quarter.

But St. Patrick dominated the fourth quarter 25-12 to post the league win. Rob Graham led Carmel, as he would the next night, in scoring with 27 points. Dave Chittaro contributed 11.

"We got down by 11 in the first half," Belmont said.

Carmel used defensive pressure to get back into the contest.

Carmel trailed 30-19 at one point in the first half but a 14-0 run gave Belmont's forces the lead in the second half.

Graham's 21 points were complimented by 14 from Scott Stahoviak and 12 from John Welling.

'Devils, Mustangs To Clash Again

Darrel Bader is not a satisfied coach.

The Warren varsity basketball mentor saw his Blue Devils play sporadically in two league games last week, leaving Warren with a 3-3 overall record heading into another loop doubleheader. Warren, 2-1 in league play, travels to Mundelein Dec. 19 and hosts Fenton Dec. 20.

"I'm not satisfied. We're going too sleep too many times. I know Brian Jarrell is the only experienced player, but the others have had six varsity games now. They'll have to start picking it up real soon," Bader said.

Warren lost 55-51 to North Chicago but came back to edge Niles North 53-51 to earn a split in NSC games last week.

Against North Chicago, the Warhawks earned the win by taking charge in the third quarter. The hosts earned an eight point lead by outscoring Warren 17-8. Warren had a chance to tie the game in the waning moments, but missed free throws cost the Blue Devils.

"North Chicago played very well. They hit a lot of 15 to 17 foot pull-up jumpers. We had too many mistakes," Bader said.

Lingenfelter had 16, Jarrell 13 and Sjong had 10 against the Warhawks.

Ramsey Presley 19 and Corey Turner 16 for the winners.

Jarrell was Warren's offense against Niles North in the last varsity game played at WTHS' old gym.

Jarrell pumped home 32 points on 12 of 19 shooting from the field. Jarrell, who earned a dinner for his performance, had seven rebounds along with Sjong as Warren dominated the boards 21-16.

"Jarrell had an off-night Friday (against North Chicago) and a great night tonight," Bader said.

However, one cloud hanging over Warren after the game was the fact that the Devils let a nine-point lead early in the fourth quarter be cut down to one. Also, after Jarrell's 32, the next highest scorer had six points.

It was Jarrell's hoop that gave the hosts a 42-33 lead at the outset of the final quarter. Niles North then extended its defense, forcing three straight Warren turnovers and got the lead down to five at 32-37.

Lingenfelter, just inserted despite four fouls, put home a hoot to restore the five point margin after Niles cut it to three.

Two straight Niles buckets made it just 44-43 with just over two minutes left.

A key three-point play by Sjong and six free throws in seven attempts from Jarrell kept the Vikings at bay.

Alex Collins had 17 points for Niles North, Jim Foster, the team's all-state candidate, had 16 and Dave Hancock had 12.

Lancers Split Two Tournament Games

The College of Lake County mens basketball team captured second place in the annual Lincoln Land tournament in Springfield.

County jumped out to a 15-point lead midway through the second half, only to see Lincoln Land come back and tie the contest in the late

Propelling the Lancers to the impressive century-scoring victory was David Sitz and David Tucker, each scoring 25 points. Tucker also dished out 11 assists and grabbed nine rebounds. Other key players include Terry Wright with 19 points, Don Gunther with 10 and Todd Gordon, who scored 15 of his 17 points in the second half.

On Saturday in the finals against host Lincoln College, Lake County's fortunes were not as bright as the Lancers lost the title tilt 87-61. CLC played good basketball in the first half, despite a 10 to 12 point lead by Lincoln. Lincoln ran away with the contest in the second half.

"They ran away from us in the second half. They outrebounded us 43-27, which proved to be a big factor in the game," CLC coach Bruce Smith said.

Playing well in the losing effort, in which proved to be a balanced scoring attack, was Sitz, who led the way with 15 points. Gunther had 14 and Gordon 12. Tucker turned in another solid performance, dishing out seven assists and snatching eight rebounds. Tucker also handled the ball well, committing just two turnovers.

"I was happy with our overall performance. Lincoln (8-2) is a good ball club," Smith said.

CLC will take its 6-3 overall record to Freeport this weekend when it competes in the Highland tournament.

CLC SPORTS NOTEBOOK

By John Phelps

The Lancers started out the two-day tournament in fine fashion, outslugging Lincoln Land College 111-101. In that game, Lake going. CLC was not about to be outdone, as it grabbed a 15-point lead with five minutes to go, hanging on to win by 10.

Surprising 'Hawks Face Antioch Next

Take a look at this week's North Suburban Conference standings.

No, that's not a typo. North Chicago really is tied for first place with Lake Forest at 3-0 in league play, 5-1 overall.

Forest run put the contest out of reach.

Scott Gooch had 12 for Antioch and Korjenek 11.

"I'd have to say Lake Forest is right now the team to beat," Zeman said.

North Chicago tied Warren

Letterwinner

Frank Young of North Chicago is a letterwinner at Lake Forest Academy-Ferry Hall.

The school's athletic director, John Paske, announced the names of 13 boys soccer letterwinners.

Game Of The Week

Coach Lester Long's team travels to Antioch Dec. 19. The contest is Lakeland Newspapers' Game of the Week.

The number 55 was right for North Chicago as the Warhawks surprised Warren 55-51 and beat Fenton 55-44 last week to get off to the hot league start.

Antioch coach Don Zeman said he is surprised with the Warhawks' fast start.

"I really am. I knew they had potential but after the first game of the season, they seemed to catch fire. They have not won much over there recently, and with each game they are gaining confidence as a team," he said.

Zeman said his forces will have to shoot more accurately than they did in two league losses last week.

Antioch enjoyed a huge early lead against Mundelein, 20-10 after eight minutes and 39-22 at half-time.

But Mundelein, led by 6' 5" Joe Wiener, took over in the second half, controlling the boards. Antioch's 20 percent shooting from the floor did not help, either.

"In the first half, we played our best half of the season. But in the second half, we could not get our shots to go down at all," Zeman said.

Rick Korjenek, an Antioch player North Chicago will have to stop, scored 16 points in the losing effort. Tom Wells had 12.

Lake Forest blasted 76-51 to complete Antioch's 0-for-2 weekend.

Antioch stayed close for eight minutes, trailing 15-14. But the Scouts then took over defensively.

Antioch committed eight of its 21 turnovers in the second period as a 22-9 Lake after eight minutes at 13-13. Warren led 26-25 at halftime before North Chicago took over in the third quarter.

The Warhawks won the quarter 17-9.

Warren rallied in the fourth, cutting the lead to one point.

But that was as close as the Blue Devils could get. Brian Jarrell, Warren's top scorer, was held to 13 points. Jarrell missed a shot in the waning moments that would have tied the game.

The Axe Falls, Baxter Cuts 150-200 Jobs At Round Lake

by SUSAN MONTGOMERY
Business Editor

"It was like a slaughterhouse. The names just kept flying like a bad nightmare," recalled a former Baxter Travenol Inc. employee from the Round Lake plant.

Thus began Baxter's massive plan to eliminate 5,000 jobs from its workforce of 60,000 employees worldwide.

Only a week after the announcement about the reorganization was made by Baxter's chief executive officer, Vernon Loucks Jr., an estimated 150 to 200 workers holding administrative, professional and clerical positions in the Round Lake facility were given the pink slip.

"Round Lake is now feeling some of the brunt of this," said Baxter spokesman Les Jacobson. About 90 to 95 percent of the job cuts taking place in Round Lake have now been completed, he said Friday.

The company's divisions in Round Lake that have been affected by the cuts include research and development, parenterals and administrative positions in small-scale manufacturing. Hourly-paid production jobs will be exempt.

Although Jacobson

estimated between 150 and 200 job cuts from Round Lake, one former employee guessed the figure was "at least 200 and probably higher."

"We're talking about engineers, and some people who have been there as long as 17 to 20 years," said a woman in her twenties. "It's bad for me - I just bought a house last year, but think about those who are in their forties and fifties."

The woman said that while there had been rumors about the massive job elimination, no formal notice was given until employees were individually notified last week.

"A lot of good people were fired. We couldn't believe it happened," she said.

But Jacobson said, "Here's a case where people are being let go not because of their job performance, but because we're identifying positions that are redundant" as a result of Baxter's merger with American Hospital Supply Corp. last November. "It's really how the industry has changed and how it fits within Baxter's goal," he said.

At the time of the merger, company officials had projected a 10 percent decrease in the company's workforce over a five-year period. The reductions, which will have a heavy impact on Baxter's northern Illinois plants, are now expected to be complete within five months.

Most will come through attrition, Jacobson said. However, the company's Deerfield headquarters and Waukegan site will also bear the brunt of slashing more jobs.

For those whose jobs were cut, Baxter is offering a severance package which includes additional pay, counseling and out-placement services such as a career continuation center in the Deerfield office.

"It's basically a pep talk, how there is life after Travenol," said a former employee, who added workers were given short notice to leave after being fired and directed to the outplacement services.

Jacobson said although the notification sounded "cruel," Baxter's goal was to get employees to outplacement as soon as possible. It's not to get them out of here, but to help them find new jobs."

New IRA Tax Treatment Could Raise Interest

Individual Retirement Accounts (IRAs) were created by Congress in 1976 as an incentive to increase savings, and as a means of possibly easing pressure on the Social Security system in the future.

One of the side benefits of the IRA's popularity was to increase deposits at cash-short banks and savings and loan associations. Thus, the institutions had more money to lend, which helped exert downward pressure on interest rates. decline, this week moving down to 9.66 percent on 30-year fixed-rate loans, with the average lender charging 2.75 points. A year ago, the average lender charged 11.6 percent and 2.5 points for the same loan. Forty percent of the institutions polled by the Meyers Report this week lowered their rates on 30-year fixed-rate mortgages, and 9 percent raised their rates.

Consumer loans. The decline in auto-loan interest rates persists, sending the average 48-month new car loan to 10.87 percent, down from 13.3 percent a year ago. Rates were lower at eight percent of the institutions surveyed last week, while one percent raised rates.

Savings. Slowly, but surely, interest rates for savings instruments at banks and S&Ls around the country are down again this week. Of the institutions surveyed, 12 percent lowered their yields on 30-month CDs this week, while three percent raised them.

On five-year certificates, 19 percent of the institutions decreased rates and only one percent posted higher rates.

Those who bought the average 30-month CD a year ago would have gotten an 8.8 percent annual yield, but today they will earn only a 6.5 percent annual yield.

Yields on Treasury instruments continue to fluctuate within a normal trading range. After the year-end financing is over, look for yields on short-term bills to decline.

Government reports. The Commerce Dept. reported that the U.S. trade deficit during the third quarter of 1986 increased by 5.5 percent from the second quarter, to $37.7 billion. The bulk of the increase is attributed to an increase in the trade gap between the United States and Japan.

However, reflecting the drop in the value of the dollar, Japanese automakers have announced significant price increases on their new models, while domestic auto makers have not. This has already begun to narrow our trade gap with Japan.

The unemployment rate in November held steady at seven percent for the third consecutive month, as the number of employed increased slightly, to just over 110 million.

Retail sales in November are up 5.9 percent from a year ago and up 0.5 percent from October.

money to lend, which helped exert downward pressure on interest rates.

The new 1987 tax law has made the Individual Retirement Account less attractive and could reverse the whole process. If there is a reduction in savings deposits, upward pressure could begin to push interest rates up within two to three years.

How popular are IRAs? In 1981, 3.4 million people had a total of $28 billion invested in them. By the end of 1985, 28 million Americans had sunk more than $200 billion into IRAs.

'Twas two weeks before Christmas
And at banks all around,
On loans and on savings,
The interest rates were down.

Interest rates on mortgages, consumer loans and savings instruments have declined steadily over the past 12 months (except for the uptick in mortgage rates this spring.) This may not seem like news, but when put into perspective, the change is significant.

Modern Homebuilder Offers Energy Savings

Guy and Patty Lolmaugh, president and vice-president of Modern Homebuilders, are offering a new concept in energy conservation in their Lakewood housing project in Lindenhurst.

Working with Commonwealth Edison, the builders are offering add-on heat pumps as an option on all 150 homesites in the development.

Commonwealth Edison's marketing engineer, Bill Griffin, described the add-on heat pumps as "an air conditioner that offers savings on heating bills in cooler weather." The add-on heat pump acts like a conventional air conditioner in warm weather, though more efficiently, and can offer between 10 to 15 percent savings on most customers' annual heating bills. It operates most efficiently as a heating unit until the temperature reaches about 32 degrees Fahrenheit. At that point, a sensor switches back to the conventional gas furnace, which operates efficiently at those colder temperatures.

According to Ken Pientka, marketing supervisor for Commonwealth Edison, the add-on heat pump returns two and a half units of energy for each unit it uses in the heating process.

Though about $500 more expensive than a traditional central air conditioning unit, Commonwealth Edison is offering rebates between $250 and $300, depending on the size of the unit, for each add-on heat pump installed in the Lakewood development. That brings down the additional cost to between $200 to $250, which Griffin estimates will be more than paid for in heat bill savings over the life of the unit.

Lolmaugh uses the add-on heat pump at his model home, located at 2170 High Point Rd., Lindenhurst. The third-generation owner of Modern Homebuilders, Lolmaugh said he believes that add-on heat pumps are the way to go for most efficient energy use.

"I will offer them on all homes I build," he said. As an established homebuilder throughout Lake County, working particularly in Grayslake and Lindenhurst, that's a lot of homes.

Griffin said that most homeowners are surprised to learn that the temperature is above 32 degrees 64 percent of the time between Oct. 1 and May 15, the prime heating season.

"People wonder how often they will be able to use the add-on heat pump and take advantage of the savings it offers," he said. "Well, the answer to that is most of the time during the heating season."

The installing contractor of add-on heat pumps for Lolmaugh's development is Maki and Assoc. of Lindenhurst.

Offering high-quality homes with an average square footage of 1,500 to 2,500, Lolmaugh will put basements and attached garages as a standard for each home. Offering the add-on heat pump with the rebate, he believes, is the icing on the cake for people who care both about quality and energy conservation.

Make My Day

The kingbirds are among the most quarrelsome birds in existence. They will fearlessly attack and drive away any birds, including eagles and hawks, that venture on their domain.

Mundelein, Builders Reach Pact On Cambridge West II

After many meetings conducted over a six-month period, Cambridge West II was annexed into the Village of Mundelein on Saturday, Dec. 6.

The 191-acre development, formerly the Gratz property is located at Midlothian, Hawley and Rtes. 60-83, just south of Mundelein High School.

Richard Brown, developer of the Cambridge West I subdivision in Mundelein, is also developer of the new subdivision.

The development will consist of 592 single family residences, 306 multi-family dwelling units, 10 acres for two park sites and 8.4 acres of commercial zoning.

The project is estimated to generate an additional 2,300 residents. Off site improvements which are to be provided by the developer include the installation of a 33-inch and a 30-inch sanitary sewer line, the construction of a water storage tank, improvements to the Hawley St. pumping station, and a half million gallon expansion to the Sewage Treatment Plant.

Developers Richard Brown, John Reddy and

Russell Ray have an estimated the total development cost to be at $150 million.

The Village of Mundelein contends that the Cambridge

West II development will be of significant benefit for the entire community.

Cancer Information Available

According to an American Cancer Society survey, many Americans wrongly assume that most colorectal cancer patients require permanent colostomies. Because of improvements in early detection and treatment, only about 15 percent of patients with rectal cancer now require permanent colostomies. This and other news about cancer is only a phone call away; instant, computerized cancer information is available through the ACS Cancer Response System by calling toll-free, (800)942-6641, or by calling the ACS area office at (312)336-9293.

The Last Chance IRA?

Take Advantage of '86 IRA Tax Deductions

This year could be your "last chance" to receive maximum tax benefits on IRA contributions. According to the new tax laws, if you make over $40,000 annually and are covered by a company retirement plan, you will lose part or all of the tax deductions on future contributions. The right time to open an IRA is "right now" before the tax year ends, and the new laws are put into effect.

One of our IRA specialists can give you more details on the effect of tax reform on IRA contributions and can tell you about the many advantageous IRA plans available at Skokie Federal. Our high-earning 3, 5, and 7-year certicates are ideal IRA investments. All our rates are very competitive and are compounded daily for even greater yields. Your IRA certificates are insured by the FSLIC and can be opened with as little as $500. There are no front end fees or charges to pay.

Act now! For some tax-payers a full annual contribution of $2,000 before year-end could save up to $1,000 in current taxes (based on a 50% tax bracket.) Although the interest on all IRAs will continue to be tax-deferred, for many of you 1986 will be the last chance to take advantage of the immediate tax cut of an IRA contribution.

LIFE'S LITTLE UPS AND DOWNS

Do your children tell you everything? If they have taken a spill, fallen off a bike, or injured themselves playing football, you may be the last to know. That's why it's important to give your children a Chiropractic Checkup regularly. Many times, untreated childhood accidents turn into spinal distortions that may not show up for months or years. Parents never really know how many little bumps, knocks, and falls their children have had. Why take a chance? Bring your children in for a Chiropractic Checkup. CALL TODAY!

James Pickens Jr. may be new to soap operas (he recently joined the cast of "Another World" as lawyer Zach Edwards), but he's certainly not new to the acting profession.

James Pickens Jr.

Pickens performed in his first play when he was attending Bowling Green University in Ohio and has developed a solid background in the New York theater.

"If anyone would have told me eight years ago that I'd be acting for a living, I'd have told them they were crazy," says Pickens. "I got into acting totally by accident. It all started when somebody asked me to do a play in college."

"My first professional role was in a showcase production called 'The Good Ship Credit," Pickens continues. "The role that brings back the greatest memories for me is that of Corporal Ellis in the original Negro Ensemble Company's production of 'A Soldier's Play,' which I did for over a year and then toured in for an additional nine months."

"I also had a very good experience this past January through March at the Crossroads Theatre in New Jersey, where I portrayed Dr. Martin Luther King in 'Roads of the Mountaintop,'" concludes Pickens, who came to "Another World" from the starring role of Walter Lee in the critically acclaimed off-Broadway production of "A Raisin in the Sun." He also had a featured role in the feature film "F/X."

Pickens lives in Manhattan with his actress wife Gina Taylor, who is currently appearing in the off-Broadway hit "Beehive."

When he's not appearing on "Another World," Pickens likes to sing. "In my free time I like to sing a cappella doo-wop with a couple of guys I met while we were all in 'A Soldier's Play.' We enjoy singing old '50s tunes when the mood strikes."

Call Before Using Christmas Trees As Fish Attractors

Following Christmas, when thousands of Illinoisans are looking for a way to dispose of their old Christmas tree, the Dept. of Conservation begins receiving telephone calls asking whether it is permissible to drop the trees into lakes and ponds to serve as fish attractors. They also ask if the attractors would enhance the fishing, and how many they should put into the water.

Unfortunately, there are no simple answers to such questions. In fact, placing fish attractors into some lakes and ponds can be considered against the law.

According to the Illinois Revised Statutes, "If any person shall abandon, deposit or otherwise place any wire, can, bottle, glass, paper, trash, rubbish, cardboard, wood cartons, boxes, trees, parts of trees, brush, or other insoluble material into the water or upon the ice of any waters of this State... he shall be in violation of the offense of polluting (petty offense); however, employees of the Dept. of Conservation may place or direct the placement, in waters of the State, of insoluble materials suitable for the purpose of enhancing aquatic habitat."

"Waters of the State" include all surface waters within the boundaries of the State of Illinois, according to DOC fisheries biologist Dale Burkett, so lake and pond owners wishing to improve aquatic habitat by fish at-tractors should seek the advice of their nearest fisheries biologist.

"Whether a hardwood tree, tire fish attractor or crappie stake bed will improve aquatic habitat in a given pond or lake depends on a variety of complex factors," Burkett said. "Weedy ponds, or those with excessive numbers of bluegill or crappie would be adversely affected by the placement of any type of cover."

"On the other hand, strip-pit lakes, generally devoid of cover, are usually good candidates for fish attractors."

Sportsmen also should keep in mind that some fish attractors are better than others. "Fish attractors made from tires or hardwood trees are much better for ponds than are Christmas trees, particularly in strip-pit lakes," Burkett said. "Christmas trees tend to deteriorate rapidly and intensify the low PH problems commonly associated with these lakes."

Burkett said larger bodies of water with little habitat are the best candidates for Christmas tree fish attractors.

Burkett pointed out that areas that are heavily fished can also suffer from fish attractors. "Fish attractors tend to concentrate the fish in certain areas of the lake or pond," Burkett said. "If the water is heavily fished, the attractors sometimes make the fish too vulnerable to harvest, and can actually hurt the fishing quality in the long run."

The best advice, according to Burkett, is to check with a fisheries biologist before dumping Christmas tree attractors into your favorite fishing hole. For the name, address and phone number of the fisheries biologist living nearest you, write: Department of Conservation, Division of Fisheries, 524 S. Second St., Springfield, IL 62706; or telephone (217) 782-6424.

Dental Poetry Contest

The Chicago Dental Society is sponsoring a poetry contest with the theme of "All aboard the Spaceship to Good Dental Health." The contest, open to elementary school students in Cook, Lake and Du Page counties, carries a $200 prize in each of three age categories: Kindergarten to second grade, third to fifth grade, and sixth to eighth grade. Each winner's school will receive a prize as well. The poem, based on the theme, must be no longer than 50 words or 12 lines. Entries are due Jan. 12. Entry forms are available at some schools, or send a long self-addressed stamped envelope to Director of Communications, Chicago Dental Society, 30 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago, 60602.

Round Lake Welding

Al & Eileen Bulava—Owners

Round Lake Welding is located at 24410 West Nippersink Road, in Round Lake, phone 546-6686. This company specializes in portable welding service. His slogan is "welding anytime, anywhere."

This is one of the best local welding shops, and handles ornamental iron work and some fabrication work.

Round Lake Welding has been instrumental in helping to keep the wheels of industry moving. Many of the businessmen and ranchers of this area offer the highest praise for the portable welding work done by this company. However, a job does not have to be brought to him to receive his attention and service, for he is equipped with modern, portable equipment and all of his work is handled right on your job.

We, the writers of this 1986 Review, join the owners in wishing everyone a Merry Christmas & Happy New Year.

CRYSTAL WINDOW CLEANING & MAINTENANCE

Louis Yesulis—Owner

One service that still must have that very personal touch is a window cleaning and maintenance service. We are fortunate to have a business such as the Crystal Window Cleaning & Maintenance, in Round Lake Beach, at 1214 Briar Lane, phone 546-9228. The personnel here do not believe in taking shortcuts. They know that if you're satisfied with their service, you will tell others and thereby businesses are built.

Machines, of course, enter the picture to a certain extent. They have waxers, polishers, vacuums, and all the necessary cleaning equipment to keep your business in top notch shape. You will be surprised to know how inexpensive it is to have a window cleaning and maintenance service, and a simple phone call to Crystal Window Cleaning & Maintenance will put you on their list. They will tell you how much time would be involved and the cost to you. After all... it's their business!

Warm wishes for a Merry Christmas & Happy New Year are extended to all the families of the area during the holidays ahead.

IRON HORSE GRILL

Scott Thompson—Owner

There is a good reason for the Iron Horse Grill being so popular. The food served here has real "pulling power" and draws lovers of fine food for many miles around. It's better than eating at home.

At the Iron Horse Grill, located at 499 West Railroad Avenue, phone 546-9841, you will find a friendly atmosphere. Your orders will receive prompt attention and everything served will be of the best quality, served at the peak of perfection. It isn't often that we find a restaurant serving such delicious food at such fair prices.

We suggest that you stop here for a good meal the next time you're in Round Lake. The owner of Iron Horse Grill would like to take this opportunity to say "Merry Christmas and Happy New Year" to his friends and customers and invites them to stop in often.

MACGILLIS FUNERAL HOME

Make it a point to stop in your next time in Round Lake. You'll be pleased with their friendly manner, the selection, convenience and the prices. The management wishes all their customers a Merry Christmas and the Happiest of New Years in 1987, and invites them to drop in often.

INGLESIDE LANES

Under New Ownership By Bill & Char Payne

Perhaps, more than any other sport, bowling is really "catching on" again in our country. Unlike so many sports, it's a truly social one, where men and women both can play and where good spirits are always to be found.

If you haven't yet discovered the healthy happy sport of bowling, why not stop in at the Ingleside Lanes, your next time in Ingleside. They're located on 415 South Washington Avenue, and offer lots of parking. At Ingleside Lanes, they have whatever equipment you'll need, for those of you who don't own your own shoes or accessories, and at a competitive price.

For a pleasant evening, afternoon, or a new type of "holiday party" idea, call them at 587-4817, and reserve a lane. You'll like the company and good times at Ingleside Lanes, our area's friendliest.

We, the compilers of this Review of some of the best businesses in the area, and the management of this fine bowling alley wish everyone a Merry Christmas & Happy New Year in 1987!!

Cherry-It Auto Parts, Incorporated wishes you all the happiest of holidays and the best in 1987!

Plan Carefully For Holiday Travel Plans

As we enter the holiday season, many will join friends and families at various locations. We have become a world of movers and travelers, the advent of a short drive to visit is no longer standard procedure. Highways are crowded, airlines bulge with holiday travelers and rail and bus routes will carry record numbers between now and Jan. 4.

If there are second thoughts about holiday air trips, early checks with airline or travel agent may be in order. Most airlines now charge penalties for last minute cancellations or changes of special low fare tickets. Often there is no refund in this category on unused tickets. Even timely changes may reduce allowed refunds by 25 to 50 percent, based on the number of airlines involved. Granting unused refunds may require a real emergency with appropriate proof.

Flights to Europe this time of year are at bargain prices during their off season, which continues through March of 1987. It's a good time to check with tour agents, particularly the wholesalers for economical flights. Hotel rates are substantially lower at this time. If it suits the traveler, Bed and Board accommodations, with share-the-bath arrangements, may be found for as little as $15 overnight. There is no better way to become acquainted with local charm and customs.

Travel to northlands, such as Wisconsin, may include surface transportation tuned to the winter sports of skiing, fishing, snowmobiling and sightseeing amid winter's white wonders. State road crews are remarkable and stand ready to hurriedly free highways of snow and ice. Wisconsin tourism offers a free 44-page brochure of slope and trail activities plus a calendar of events.

Starting at nearby Walworth County, with its Geneva Lakes area, a wide winter recreation assortment is available without undue travel. Accommodations are at their low, off-season rate level, which means plentiful and economical. Write Walworth County Tourism at Box 1007, Elkhorn, Wis.,

Authoritative

The mace, originally a weapon of the Middle Ages, is today a club-shaped staff used as a symbol of authority. The mace used in the U.S. House of Representatives is about three feet long.

False Advertising

Feverfew is a low, hardy plant with white daisy-like flowers. People once believed that it could drive away fever. Its name means to put fever to flight. It doesn't work.

53121 for seasonal information.

A new voice from the Manitowoc-Two Rivers area is Wisconsin's "East Coast." Their toll-free phone, (800)92-COAST, an unusual telephone sequence, is tuned to the East Coast connotation. Manitowoc is about half way up the Lake Michigan east shoreline, about 175 miles over excellent roads for most Chicago suburbanites. We visited earlier this year and found the Manitowoc Maritime Museum to be a fascinating historical stop. We explored its locally built WWII submarine and displays for Great Lakes maritime happenings in boat construction and Lake Michigan commerce, beginning with the early 1800s. Museum popularity has necessitated expansion. A new building, at 75 Maritime Dr., will open the weekend of Jan. 10. Call (800)92-COAST for details.

21-Year-Old Drinking Law Rears Head Again

Talk about the Wisconsin Tavern League starting a new drive to bring back the 19-year-old drinking age to Wisconsin has met various reactions from members of the state legislature.

According to the league's executive secretary Mike Birkley, "At least 80 percent of the legislature will support a return to 19."

But the man that will be sitting in the governor's seat starting in 1987 has voiced opposition to any change in the drinking age and added that, "The issue has been decided." Governor-Elect Tommy Thompson said that he felt that the members of the legislature "would reject" such a change.

One legislator that fought for the raise to 21, Rep. John Merk (R-Mequn) found the change proposal "mind boggling."

But another, Thomas Loftus (D-Sun Prairie) thinks that it is possible in future years.

When the tavern league refused to jump on the border hopping ban it forced a narrow legislative approval of the drinking age raise last September.

Book Binders

Before the nineteenth century, most libraries kept their books chained to desks or to bookshelves placed above sloping reading tables.

YWCA Seeks Needy Children

The YWCA of Lake County is looking for the names of needy children in the county to put on their Christmas list. Children or families must have one referral from a church or agency to get on the list. Qualifying children and their families will be given complimentary tickets to see "Miracle on 34th Street" at the Genesee Theater on Sunday, Dec. 21, and toys will be presented to children on the list at the end of the play. For more information, contact Roseanne Mullen at the YWCA, (312)662-4248.

Pilots To Award Scholarship

The Illinois Pilots Assn. will be giving a scholarship award in the amount of $500 at their annual convention in June, 1987. Applicants must be an Illinois resident enrolled in an aviation curriculum at an Illinois college. Interested persons may write for an application to Mr. Larry McAneny, Illinois Pilots Scholarship Committee, 55 Oatugo Bluff, Godfrey, Ill., 62035, or call (618)466-2305.

Celeste Needs Foster Home

Celeste is an attractive, blond, 15-year-old who needs a family. She has been in four foster homes searching for the family she never had because mother is a drug addict unable to care for Celeste, and father disappeared when she was a toddler.

Celeste is a freshman with a poor school record. She is friendly and likes to party and requires a structured environment. Sexually abused by mother's boyfriend, Celeste needs a warm and caring family.

If that description fits you, call (312) 356-1021, Central Baptist Family Services, and find out how to qualify to become an Illinois licensed foster parent. Single persons or married couples may apply.

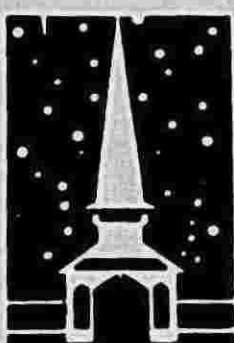

Requirements for licensure include:

- 21 years of age
  - adequate space in the home
  - good health
  - a criminal check
  - participation in foster parent training sessions
- Foster parents receive reimbursements for child's room, board, clothing and allowance. Medical and pharmaceutical expenses are paid.

An ironic twist in this matter is the defense attorney for Warren Twp. is also an alumnus of WTHS and fellow classmate of mine. Tom Robinson is an intelligent, articulate person of great integrity. To have him defend the township is only attesting to the high quality of grass-roots education received at WTHS. Other WTHS graduates that come to mind are Fred Foreman and Sally D. Coffelt. Think about it. Would these people be today's leaders in Lake County if they had not had a good educational background to prepare them for life? I think not.

Arbor Vista, I think you need to reassess your values and priorities. Listen to yourselves, but most importantly, listen—really listen—to your children. Do you have their best interests at heart, or are you only striving to improve your position in the community? If you do not have your children's best educational interests at heart, deannexation will only hurt, not help, the future leaders of tomorrow.

RESOLUTION DETERMINING TO LEVY AN ADDITIONAL TAX OF .02 PERCENT OF THE VALUE OF ALL TAXABLE PROPERTY IN THE DISTRICT FOR BUILDING, CON-

POSES.

WHEREAS, the Board of Library Trustees of the Round Lake Area Public Library District, Lake County, Illinois, is a public library district organized pursuant to Ill. Rev. Stat., Chap. 81, Sec. 1001-1, et seq., The Public Library District Act; and

WHEREAS, the Board of Library Trustees of the Round Lake Area Public Library District, Lake County, Illinois, is the corporate authority of said public library district, pursuant to statutory authority set forth in Sec. 1001-5 of the aforesaid statute; and

WHEREAS, Section 1003-1 of the aforesaid act provides that the corporate authority may levy an additional tax of .02 percent of the value of all the taxable property in the district, as equalized or assessed in accordance with law, for the purchase of sites and buildings, for the construction and equipment of buildings, for the rental of buildings required for library purposes, and for maintenance, repairs and alterations of library buildings and equipment; and

WHEREAS, the corporate authority does hereby deem it in the best interests of the Round Lake Area Public Library District, Lake County, Illinois, and the residents thereof and the patrons of the public library that revenue be made available for the designated purposes as set forth by law;

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of Library Trustees of the Round Lake Area Public Library District, Lake County, Illinois, as follows:

SECTION 1. This Board hereby determines to levy an additional tax of Twenty-five Thousand and no/100 ($25,000.00) Dollars or such lesser additional amount as would produce a tax rate of .02 percent of the value of all the taxable property in the district, as equalized or assessed in accordance with law, for the purchase of sites and buildings, for the construction and equipment of buildings, for the rental of buildings required for library purposes, and for maintenance, repairs and alterations of library buildings and equipment.

SECTION 2. Within fifteen (15) days after the adoption of this resolution, it shall be published at least once in one or more newspapers published in the district, or if no newspaper is published herein, then in one or more newspapers with a general circulation within the district. The publication shall include a notice containing the following information: (1) the specific number of voters required to sign a petition requesting that the question of the adoption of the resolution be submitted to the electors of the district is 379; (2) the time in which the petition must be filed is thirty (30) days after publication; (3) the date of the prospective referendum is April 7, 1987; and (4) the secretary of the district shall provide a petition form to any individual requesting one.

SECTION 3. If within the thirty-day period after publication of this resolution, a petition is filed with the Board of Library Trustees of the Round Lake Area Public Library District, Lake County, Illinois, signed by electors of the district equal in number to ten percent (10%) or more of the total number of votes cast at the last preceding regular district election, asking that the question of levying such a .02 percent tax be submitted to the electors of the district, the question shall be submitted at a special or general election. Said election shall be conducted in all particulars as set forth by statute.

SECTION 4. If no petition is filed with the Board of Library Trustees of the Round Lake Area Public Library District, Lake County, Illinois, within thirty (30) days after said publication, this district shall then be authorized to levy the tax, and the tax levy ordinance for fiscal year 1987/88 may contain a direction to the County Clerk of Lake County to levy such additional tax.

SECTION 5. This resolution shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval according to law.

PASSED by the Board of Library Trustees of the Round Lake Area Public Library District, Lake County, Illinois, on the 25th day of November, 1986, by a vote of:

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Board of Education of Avon Center School District No. 47, Lake County, Illinois will hold a public hearing on December 22, 1986 at the hour of 7:30 p.m., at 35275 N. Highway 83, Lake Villa, Illinois concerning the 1986 tax levy for School District No. 47. It is estimated that the amount of property tax levy for taxes exclusive of election costs, bonds and interest, to be extended on behalf of the District for the year 1985 is $539,714 and that the amount of the proposed levy for 1986 exclusive of election costs, bonds and interest, is $593,554 and therefore that the tax levy for the 1986 year has been increased 10.0% over the amount of the year 1985.

At such public hearing the Board of Education shall explain the reasons for the proposed increase in the tax levy and all persons desiring to be heard shall be given an opportunity to present testimony during such public hearing.

The above indicated hearing may be continued from time to time as may appear necessary without further notice. By order of the corporate authorities of the Avon Center School District No. 47, Board of Education.

ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS

On Wednesday, January 7, 1987 at 7:30 p.m. in the Antioch Village Hall, 874 Main Street, Antioch, Illinois, 60002, the Zoning Board of Appeals will hear the following petition:

Petitioner: The Antioch Plan Commission Amendment to Zoning Code

Petition: Under the present classification of Multiple Family Dwelling, and more particularly, Chapter 150.076 Paragraph F entitled LOT AREA of the Zoning Code of the Village of Antioch, the first sentence of said Paragraph F reads as follows: "Every building hereafter erected or structurally altered as a multiple-family dwelling, apartment, or row dwelling or more than two dwelling units shall provide a lot area per dwelling unit of not less than 3,000 square feet."

Whereas, the Plan Commission has determined that said square footage area is unrealistic in light of the changing demands for rental units, to-wit, the size of the family, the single householder, the married couple without children, WHEREFORE, the Antioch Plan Commission wishes to amend the Village Ordinances, more particularly, the first sentence of Paragraph F of Chapter 150.076, to read as follows:

"Every building hereafter erected or structurally altered as a multiple-family dwelling, apartment, or row dwelling of more than two dwelling units shall provide a lot area per dwelling unit or not less than 2,500 square feet for one (1) and two (2) bedroom apartments and 3,000 square feet for three (3) bedroom apartments."

All persons desiring to appear and be heard thereon for or against said petition may appear at said Hearing and be heard.

Market Record No Surprise To Meyers Report Readers

by GARY S. MEYERS AND ROBERT E. STENBECK

Lower interest rates and rising stock prices are the order of the day. While this is no surprise to the readers of the Meyers Report, Wall Street investors went wild as rates fell and good economic and political news surfaced.

Investor confidence. Institutional investors bought big yesterday, confident that interest rates will continue to decline, and that inflation will remain negligible, meaning an increase in corporate profits. In addition, government economic reports on the whole are positive.

Also, Wall Street investors breathed a collective sigh of relief about President Reagan's apparent recovery from a potential political calamity—the Iranian arms sales affair.

The tax law. Changes in the way that capital gains will be treated have caused investors to sell their stock, book their capital gains and take their capital losses this year, and reinvest in the market.

Will the market continue to climb? Look for the Meyers Report 1987 forecasts during the first week of January.

In review. The government had some good news and some bad news. The good news:

—Leading Economic Indicators index from October of 1985 rose 5.2 percent. This October's numbers are up 0.6 percent from September. This was the largest monthly increase since July of this year. However, the good news was tempered by a downward revision in the September figure.

The index was pushed up by increases in the money supply, a rise in raw material prices and a reduction in the number of unemployment claims.

Construction spending in October recorded a 3.3 percent rise from a year ago and is up 1.6 percent from September, as nonresidential outlays rose sharply.

The 3.6 percent rise in nonresidential construction may not be good news because there is already a glut of office buildings in the nation.

New home sales in October were 662,000 annualized. This is up 1.5 percent from last year, but down 9.6 percent from last month.

Interest rates continue to decline, as investors look for quality and anticipate a slowly growing economy with low inflation.

The bad news: —Total factory orders in October declined 1.6 percent from a year ago and are down 3.6 percent from September.

Manufacturers' inventories continued to decline, falling by 2.2 percent from last year and by 0.1 percent from September.

Short-term Treasury yields are responding to upward pressure from competing short-term debt instruments here and abroad.

Savings: Savings rates across the country are continuing their general decline.

This week, six-month CD yields were lowered at 20 percent of the banks and S&Ls polled, while only six percent posted increases.

Fourteen percent of institutions lowered their 30-month CD yields, and only eight percent raised them. Yields on five-year certificates were lowered at nine percent of the institutions, while yields at five percent were increased.

Loans: Mortgage rates are down again this week. Almost half of the institutions in the nationwide poll dropped their rates on 30-year fixed-rate mortgages, to give a national average rate of 9.72 percent.

In Chicago, 51 percent of the institutions lowered their rates, giving an average of 9.52 percent.

Auto loan rates continued to fall. The U.S. average for a 48-month new car loan is 10.90 percent, as six percent of the lenders lowered their rates and only one percent raised them.

Interest rates charged on home improvement loans averaged 12.76 percent this week, from last week's 12.82 percent.

ORDINANCE BEING ORDINANCE NO.
77-0-25, AS AMENDED BY ORDINANCES
NUMBERED 79-0-15 AND 82-0-5

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE PRESIDENT AND BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE VILLAGE OF GRAYSLAKE, LAKE COUNTY, ILLINOIS, AS FOLLOWS:

Section I: Ordinance No. 77-0-25 of the Village of Grayslake, Lake County, Illinois, entitled "Grayslake Sign Ordinance", duly passed and approved on August 15, 1977, and as amended by Ordinance No. 79-0-15 enacted on August 20, 1979, and Ordinance No. 82-0-5 enacted on March 1, 1982, is hereby further amended as follows:

A. Section 104, captioned "Rules and Definitions", subsection B, captioned "Definitions", is hereby amended to include, as item number 2, a definition of Banners, Pennants, and Streamers, with the further renumbering of the remaining items in Section 104B, as follows:

Section 104-Rules and Definitions:

A. Rules:

B. Definitions:

1. Background Area: The entire area of a sign on which copy could be placed, as opposed to the copy area, when referred to in connection with facia or wall signs.

2. Banners, Pennants, and Streamers: Any material enclosed in a frame secured or mounted so as to allow movement caused by movement of the atmosphere and not otherwise defined in this ordinance.

3. Building Frontage: The linear length of a building facing a street right-of-way or the linear length of the right-of-way facing the building, whichever is smaller.

4. Copy (Permanent and Temporary): The wording on a sign surface either in permanent or removable letter form.

5. Copy Area: The area in square feet of the smallest geometric figure which describes the area enclosed by the actual copy of a sign. For facia signs, the copy area limits refer to the message, not to any illuminated background.

6. Cutouts or Extensions: Any extension beyond the border of a sign being a part of the same sign message and not a separate sign.

7. Erected: Attached, altered, built, constructed, reconstructed, enlarged, or moved, including the painting of wall signs, but not including copy changes on any sign.

8. Frontage: The length of the property line of any one premises parallel to and along each public right-of-way which it borders.

9. Maintain: To permit a sign, structure, or any part of thereof to continue, or to repair or refurbish a sign, structure or part thereof.

10. Marquee (or Canopy): A permanent roof-like shelter extending from part of all of the building face over a public right-of-way and constructed of some durable material such as metal, glass, or plastic.

11. Owner: A person recorded as such on official records and including duly authorized agents, purchasers, heirs, devisees, or assigns; any persons having a vested or contingent interest in the property in question.

12. Parapet or Parapet Wall: That portion of a building wall that rises above the roof.

13. Premises: The area occupied by a single use. When more than one use occupies a single building on the ground floor, each use shall be considered a separate premises. Uses which occupy other floors shall be considered separate premises. When the context requires, "premises" can also mean the lot or vacant area upon which a sign is located.

14. Roof Line: The top edge of the roof or the top of the parapet, whichever forms the top line of the building silhouette.

15. Shopping Center: A group of two or more commercial establishments planned, developed, owned, and managed as a unit, with all required parking spaces provided on the premises, and with a minimum lot size as established by the Grayslake Zoning Ordinance.

16. Sign: Any structure, vehicle, device, natural object including the ground itself, or any part thereof, or any device attached thereto, or pointed or represented thereon, which shall be used to identify, advertise, or attract attention to any object, product, place, activity, person, institution, organization, firm, group, commodity, profession, enterprise, industry, or business; or which shall display or include any letter, word, model, number, banner, flag, pennant, insignia, device, or representation used as an announcement, direction, or advertisement, and which is intended to be seen by persons in the public right-of-way.

a. Address Plate: A sign giving the address of a building, which may include the name of the occupant of the building.

b. Advertising Sign: A sign which directs attention to a business, commodity, service, activity, idea, slogan, or entertainment conducted, sold, offered, or available elsewhere than upon the premises where such sign is located or to which it is affixed.

c. Animated Sign: Any sign which includes action or motion. For purposes of this Ordinance, this sign type does not include Flashing Signs or Changeable Copy Signs.

d. Banner Sign: A temporary sign composed of lightweight material either enclosed or not enclosed in a rigid frame, secured or mounted so as to allow movement of the sign caused by movement of the atmosphere.

e. Billboard: An advertising sign, greater than (16) square feet in area.

f. Building Sign: A sign giving the date of construction and the name of the building itself, as opposed to the name of occupants or services or supplies obtained within the building.

g. Bulletin Board: A business sign attached to the exterior of a building or located elsewhere on the premises, indicated the names, services, or activities of the organizations or businesses within the building.

h. Business Sign: A sign which directs attention to a business, commodity, service, activity, idea, slogan, or entertainment conducted, sold, offered, or available upon the premises where such sign is located or to which it is affixed.

i. Canopy or Marquee Sign: Any sign attached to or constructed in or on a canopy or marquee.

j. Changeable Copy Sign, Manual: A sign on which copy is changed manually.

k. Changeable Copy Sign, Automatic: A sign on which different copy changes are shown on a lamp bank. This sign type includes a time, temperature, and date sign and a message center or readerboard sign.

l. Directional Sign: Any sign which serves solely to designate the location or direction of any place or area.

m. Directly Illuminated Sign: Any sign, except an automatic changeable copy sign, which emanates light by means of tubing or lamps on its surface.

n. Fascia Sign: See Wall Sign.

o. Faston Lighting: A sign which includes ten (10) or more incandescent light bulbs, exposed to persons on the public right-of-way, which are hung overhead or along the ground and not on a building or sign structure.

p. Flashing Sign: Any sign, except an automatic changeable copy sign, which contains an intermittent or flashing light source, or which includes the illusion of intermittent or flashing light by means of animation, or an externally mounted intermittent light source.

q. Free-Standing Sign: A sign placed, painted, fastened, or affixed to any sign structure. Ground Signs and Pole Signs are Free-Standing Signs.

r. Ground Sign: A Free-Standing Sign having a supporting structure with a size greater than or equal to 25.00% of the title width or the sign at its widest part.

s. Highway Sign: Any sign for which a permit from the Department of Transportation is necessary under the provisions of the Highway Advertising Act of 1971, Chapter 121, Paragraphs 501 et seq. of the Illinois Revised Statutes, 1975.

t. Identification Sign: A wall sign used to display and identify the name of the individual, business, profession, organization, or institution occupying the premises upon which the sign is located.

u. Indirectly Illuminated Sign: Any sign which reflects light from a source intentionally directed upon it, or which emanates light by means of illumination transmitted thru a translucent or colored sign face or sign letter.

v. Individual Letter Sign: A Wall Sign made of self-contained letters which are mounted on the face of a building wall, top of a parapet, or roof edge of a building.

w. Moving Sign: A sign which has any visible portion in motion, either constantly or at intervals, which motion may be caused by artificial or natural sources.

x. Multi-Prism Sign: A Moving Sign made with a series of triangular vertical sections that turn and stop to show three pictures or messages in the same area.

y. Permanent Sign: Any sign which is not a temporary sign.

z. Pole Sign: Any Free-Standing Sign having a supporting structure with a size less than 25.00% of the total width of the sign at its widest point.

aa. Portable Sign: Any sign not permanently attached to the ground or to a building.

ab. Projecting Sign: A sign attached to a building or other structure and extending in whole or in part more than twelve (12) inches beyond the surface of the portion of the building or structure to which it is attached.

ac. Residential Development Sign: A sign identifying the name of a subdivision, multiple family project or planned unit development.

ad. Real Estate Sign: A business sign placed upon a piece of property advertising that property for sale, for rent or for lease.

ae. Roof Sign: Any sign erected upon, against, or directly above the roof of a building, or on top of or above the parapet line of a building.

af. Rotating Sign: Any moving sign or portion of a sign which moves in a revolving or similar manner, but not including Multi-Prism Signs.

ag. Temporary Sign: A sign intended to be displayed for six (6) months or less.

ah. Wall Sign: A sign attached directly to or painted upon a building wall, which does not extend more than twelve (12) inches therefrom nor extend above the roof line nor beyond the building edge.

al. Window Sign: A temporary or permanent wall sign which is visible to persons in the right-of-way and which is placed within or on the outside of a window or on the inside of a glass window, or on the inside of a building and within one (1) foot of a window.

17. Sign Face: The surface of a sign or sign board upon, against, or through which a message is displayed.

18. Sign Area: The area of the smallest triangle, rectangle or circle which can wholly enclose the surface area of the sign. Each face of a multi-faced sign, which is visible from a single direction, shall be counted separately and then totaled in calculating sign area. Three dimensional signs shall be treated as dual-faced signs, such that the total area shall be twice the area of the smallest geometric figure which can totally circumscribe the sign in the plane at its largest dimension.

19. Sign Height: The vertical distance measured from the ground grade below the sign face to the highest point of said sign.

20. Sign Structure: Any device, except a building or portable device, upon which a sign is placed, painted, fastened, or affixed.

21. Zone: A zoning district as established by the Grayslake Zoning Ordinance.

B. Section 202, captioned "Signs Permitted in all Districts", is amended as follows:

1. Subsection C, captioned "Flags" is amended to read as follows:

G. Flags, Emblems, Pennants, Insignia: The flags, emblems, pennants, or insignia of any nation or political subdivision, or the flags, emblems, pennants or insignia of any religious, charitable, fraternal, or community service organization.

2. New subsection R, captioned "Signs at Gasoline Service Stations" is added and subsections R, S, T, U and V are relettered as subsections S, T, U, V and W, as follows:

R. Signs at Gasoline Service Stations: The following signs accessory to the principal use of gasoline service stations are permitted:

1. Signs, or other materials not specifically prohibited by this ordinance may be displayed within the confines of the pump islands.

2. Two (2) portable tire racks not more than seven (7) feet in height and six (6) feet in length on casters for the purpose of displaying tires.

3. One (1) portable sign of less than 24 square feet for the purpose of displaying the price of gasoline and further provided that one (1) additional portable sign may be used for corner lots.

S. Signs in Display Windows: Signs in display windows of a use which is incorporated with a display of merchandise or a display relating to services offered on the premises.

T. Symbols or Insignia: Religious symbols, commemorative plaques of recognized historical agencies or identification emblem of religious orders or historical agencies, provided that no such symbol, plaque or identification emblem shall exceed four (4) square feet in area, and provided further that all such symbols, plaques, and identification emblems shall be affixed flat against the building wall.

U. Temporary Signs: Temporary signs, including banner signs, pertaining to drives, fairs or events of civic, philanthropic, educational or religious organizations, provided that said signs are posted only during said drive for no more than thirty (30) days before said event and are removed no more than five (5) days after the event.

V. Temporary Window Signs: Except in residential zones, temporary window signs, provided that no more than 50.00% of the window area may be used for the copy of a permanent sign and the sign background area for such temporary signs.

W. Warning Signs: Signs warning the public of the existence of danger, but containing no advertising material, of a size as may be necessary, to be removed upon subsidence of the danger.

C. Section 204, captioned "Signs in the Central Business Zone" is hereby amended to include signs in the Central Business A Zone, by the amendment of the heading to said section, as follows:

Section 204-Signs in the Central Business and Central Business A Zone: all subsections said section 204 shall remain in full force and effect.

D. Section 205, captioned "Signs in the General Business Zone" is hereby amended by the addition of paragraph 11 to subsection A, as follows:

11. One (1) portable sign per premises. Possession of a valid permit for a portable sign shall entitle holder to display the one (1) portable sign for a period of fourteen days out of each quarter.

E. Section 205, captioned "Signs in the General Business Zone", is hereby amended by the addition of paragraph 3 to subsection B, as follows:

3. The one (1) allowable portable sign is exempt from the provisions of Section 205-B-1 and Section 205-B-2 but shall meet the following requirements:

1. The sign area shall not exceed 32 sq. feet, nor shall it exceed a height six feet above grade.

2. The sign shall not be externally illuminated.

3. The sign shall not contain any flashing lights or banners.

4. The sign shall meet all other applicable provisions of this ordinance.

5. No portable sign shall be located in such a way that it presents a traffic safety hazard.

F. Section 205, captioned "Signs in the General Business Zone", Subsection C, paragraph 8 is hereby amended to read as follows:

8. Portable signs except as provided in Section 205A.

Section II: That except as amended herein, Ordinance No. 77-0-25, as amended by Ordinances Numbered 79-0-15 and 82-0-5, shall remain in full force and effect.

Section III: This ordinance shall be designated Ordinance Number 86-0-33 and shall be in full force and effect 10 days after its passage, approval and publication, as required by law.

Protect Cats From Dangers Around The Household

by CHARLENE WHITNEY

There are many dangers in the house. Your pet can be injured if you don't take some time to think about the danger and remove what you can.

Some houseplants are poisonous for your cat. Some of these on the list are amaryllis, dieffenbachia, English ivy, mistletoe, narcissus, and philodendron. These should be removed from the house. The cat will find them if you don't.

Lock up or put out of reach household chemicals and cleaning supplies, rat poison, fertilizer, antifreeze, medications, mothballs and pesticides.

Kittens and cats like to swat and bite into electrical cords. Put them behind furniture and as much out of reach as possible. A dangling cord looks inviting. It wouldn't be a bad idea to put in plastic socket fillers, either.

Try not to leave your stove unattended. One never knows when the cat, trained or not, might jump onto it.

Should you give your cat a bed with an electric blanket, your pet's claw might get into a wire, causing electrocution.

When feeding the cat, don't give him any kind of bones, be it chicken, pork, turkey, or whatever. He can get a splinter, or it can stick in the throat. He could choke, and even die from the bone.

Keep all sewing items out of kitty's reach. He can swallow buttons, needles, pins and thread. This could damage his mouth and/or internal organs, should he swallow any of these.

Any time you close a closet, drawer, washer or dryer, dishwasher, refrigerator or freezer, double check to see where the cat is. They love to climb in and explore these enclosed spaces.

A cat loves to look out a window. Make sure the screens are secured. Don't let him play on balconies.

When it's time to travel with kitty, it is much safer to put the pet in a cat carrier. Be sure it has plenty of ventilation.

As the holidays are getting closer, keep this in mind: Cats and kittens love to climb trees, and it could be the Christmas tree in your home. Make sure the tree is standing secure. Kitty may try to eat the garland or tinsel. Should he bat at a glass ball, he could get hurt if it breaks.

Also, there is dye in wrapping paper and bows that could make the cat very ill.

If you plan to give your pet a Christmas gift, make sure it is a safe toy. The toys with metal squeakers or small enough for kitty to swallow are unsafe.

Safe toys would be ping pong balls, paper bags, cardboard boxes, a newspaper, a ball of paper, unshelled empty thread spool, a dboard toilet paper tu. If you pick a toy from the store, make sure the eyes, tail, and other parts are sewed on securely. There is a catnip-filled cloth mouse and a catnip-filled sock.

The home can be a fun and safe place for your cat to live.

Stroll

expensive taste has no doubt served most of Antioch and the suburbs, including Tim Osmond of Pridemark Insurance, Lt. Tom Fisher, village trustees Mabel Lou Weber and Bob Wilton. "Where the elite meet to eat," including Mary Polley.

State Bank of Antioch—Passing through here, I'm pleasantly greeted by Minnie Pratt at the information desk. Carl Wurster is off to the post office. Carolyn Blanchette, trust officer, is chatting with Flo Babusek, a lady of many talents, as is popular operations officer Jean Rockow. Neila Hopkins is occupied at customer service as executive Wally Jaskowski is heading for his post, after stopping to admire Christmas tree decorations. Big Bill Brook, chairman of the board, is in his office talking business with veteran attorney Ted Larson.

Ben Franklin Family Center—Cutting through here, I am met by Don Marski, owner and head cashier Diane Swanson. Barb Bailey, cosmetics, Betty Collins at audio-visual, Pearl Leatherberry, Jean Kosar and Big Bob Obenauf, congenial chief honcho.

McDonald's—Someone special has been added to the golden arches in the pleasant personality of manager Chris Kellogg, who is doing an artistic job of Christmas decorating, as her talents also display on other holidays. Bingo is held on Tuesdays with Iris and M. hell. Pleasant Hilda Thibodeau is a picture of grace.

Mary Boyd is serving Big Macs to her hubby George Boyd, an avid collector of old Tiny Tim records, and Uncle John Christensen. Ray and Phyllis Maaske are seated in the no-smoking section, along with Jane and George Kish and jovial Frances Winiecki.

Big Ed Wallock and banker Ed Archambault, unable to harmonize on "Jingle Bells," are talking shop with Mae and Ken Mortensen, retired contractor. Over in the mid-section, Mary and Bess May are visiting with Larry Hansen, Elmer Rentner and Joe Matussek. Back at the counter, Helen Smith is giving Jim and Vivian Mapletorpe Danish and coffee, as Karen Linton comes to work. Walt Johnson and Vern Hall wave as I take off. Oops! Here comes my dear friend and neighbor, Joan Stahl, for Big Macs and Chicken McNuggets.

Famous Las Vegas Restaurant—Owners are the Katris family. Over a year ago, this fine family presented Antioch with a token of their appreciation for the patronage shown through the years. An eating place that would rival any other, not only in the quality of the food but the beautiful surroundings to consume it in. Thus, the end result is this exquisite establishment for our dining pleasure. "Bon appetit." Irene Lingo says, "Amen to that."

Shirley Vaughn and Shelli Ward are busy serving Frosted Foam Evostedahl, Colonial Chapel's Paul Maginot and Shirley Robinson at the Cozy Counter. Lovely Sharon Harder and Pat Jelinek are attending the wishes of Paul Dye and "that man about town," Steve Pacini. In a front booth, two famous Moose clowns, Bobbi and Ken Knackstedt, receive service from pretty Rita Torres. Senior waitress Jean Benser is seating Marjorie and popular musician Uncle Jess Lloyd of the Stardusters.

Dorothy and Mike Ciancio are being tended by Lorie Foresta, as ever-popular Maria Skrypt has the large table holding down the breakfast club of Jack Wells, Dick Waters, popular barber Dick Radke, and village trustee Rod White.

Vern Gilbertson is just paying his check to Pam Estrada, as back in the west section, sweet waitress Denise Barhyte is seeing to it that her new husband, David, and Ray Bruha clean up their plates. Marilyn Warden of "Piggly Wiggly" walks in.

In years gone by, when leaving The Vegas, I'd cross over Main Street to Reeves Drugs to savor the only nickel coffee anywhere around, and also visit with the local gentry. How a lot of us today wish we could turn back the hands of time and visit once again with Edna Drom, Ruth Elliott and prominent pharmacist, Helen Borovicka.

But time takes its toll, and Edna and dear Helen are no longer with us, and the many memories are those that both bless and burn.

A lot of us had high hopes that someday this central block building, circa 1904, would become of landmark status, because when Helen died, an era died with her. "Gone but not forgotten"—we all loved you, Helen. (See my farewell article on Helen in the Antioch News, Aug. 22, 1983.)

The Vault—Jimmy and Audie, proprietors—Another refurbished restaurant has become an added asset to our town. It's always a pleasure to greet Harold Mason, seated over in a booth. Ray Glassman and Don Kerkman of Lakes Area Barber Shop are dining at a table. Jean Rybicki, retired office manager of the Antioch publications, is relaxing in another booth while dreaming of a White Christmas. The popular Quedenfelds are here.

Also on hand is trustee Don Amundsen and his party. School superintendent Don Skidmore and Evy are enjoying themselves nearby. Handsome Ken Rosenbrock saunters in, and is really quite modest, after getting a standing ovation at the counter. (There were no vacant stools.) Had his charming wife Vera been present, he'd have made it.

Heading due south on Main Street, I no longer have to fear approaching Strang's, or Solemn Steve Smouse and Digger Dan Dugenske. It's now Baby Face Dan, of the Footlights at St. Peter's Church. Amen.

Squire Restaurant—and wonderful waitress Hanne Hogan for many years throughout Antioch. Which attests to the same satisfied customers, such as Ann and John Kakacek of ACHS. And handsome couple Carol and Jim Corrigan, also of ACHS, being waited on by Kathy Flam. Jim and Sue Glenn, Chuck and Earl Hogan. Popular waitress Anne McNerny and far too many patrons to mention.

The Bee Hive—Jim and Ben Sabini, chief honchos. Trustee Ron Cunningham and Earl Yates may drop in at any time. Also, distinguished township assessor Bud Holtz and welder Pete Pearse.

Waitress Dee Jacobson is serving coffee at the counter to the Blackmans and Hank Malone. Joanne Stephen is serving crepes to my favorite couple, attractive and very likeable Jean and John Zak, two holdovers from Baby Face Dan's at Footlights 1986. Wherever the action is at St. Peter's, you'll find the unselfish Zaks right in the thick of it. May God always smile down upon them.

Veteran waitress Penny Soulak is showing Dorothy and Carol Jurgansen to a table. Bill and Edna Barr take off. This is another eatery that holds its patrons. And don't forget to greet pleasant hostess-cashier Gwen on your way out.

Lakeside Restaurant—410 Lake—Your hosts are genial Carl and Margie Turner. Excellent food, fun and friendly faces. Bonnie and Ruth Tarkowski, still dreaming of a Bears Christmas. A relaxing place, as you'll notice marvelous Marilyn Edwards serving Glenn Fox, Paul Zeien and Howard Wells. Postman Frank Schultz dropping off the mail. Rudy and Nancy Zinzer over in a booth talking to the Ogdens. In a nearby booth, that studious couple, Jim and Linda Curtis, are Christmas-minded.

Myrus Nelson walks in as Jeri Taylor takes orders from Whitey Allen, George Gahan and Charming "Welcome Mat" realtor Addie Goodrich. May we always be blessed with the talented Margie, who thrives on kindness and goodwill toward all, and not just at Christmas. Hang in there and one more chorus of "Jingle Bells." The DeBoers walk in. Also Phyllis Mengler and Adeline Demar take to a booth, opposite Milton Tate. Warner Olson takes for the Moose Lodge.

Loyal Order of the Moose, Lodge 525—Joe Gutowski, governor. Down through the years, the tempo and make-up of this fine lodge pretty much remains the same, which is wonderful in these changing times.

You can still meet and eat with Hizzoner Ray Toft, or a popular police chief, Chuck Miller, and a village clerk, Marilyn Sterbenz, who has broke all records in that office. Also Glenda Tomaschik of the Park and Recreation.

You can still dance (or just listen) to the tunes of Frank Merle and His Marks, or be entertained by the clever antics of the Moose Clowns. This brings us to Fred "Ollie" Beckman, who was so graciously and generously befriended by the kindness of the Women of the Moose, led by Dorothy Laursen. Let's hope the tide will turn for him soon, and he can once again take his place in the sun.

Getting back on track, you can have sociable drinks at the bar with congenial Carl Gulbrandsen, Rose and Ray Dunaj and popular people who resemble Norma and Scotty Lowe. Also, two of my favorites, Avis and Tony Huber. There is one drawback, however: You've got to have the money. Since Shipwreck Kelly took off with all that loot, there's absolutely no more credit! "Show me the way to go home."

Well, I do hope some of you folks are still strolling right along with me, so hang in there for our last Christmas stop. Music by Hot-Nut Ron and Polka Originals.

Vi's Yellowbird—Channel Lake and the outskirts of town, where the popular polka palace of Vi and Al Johantgen entertains. Betty Newer is hostess. This gorgeous showplace was always a favorite of Ginger's and mine. Many a happy hour was spent here in reminiscing of days gone by. My beloved Ginger and Vi went back in time to Chicago's Pilsen neighborhood and old Whipple Street. What nice memories.

Sometimes, it seems, that's really all we have left. But they're very precious, those memories of long ago.

... And so folks, we've come to the end of the line. . . Be kind to one another. . . "A Merry Christmas to All."

S. Claus Enterprises Supports Eye Safety

"My dear Mr. Britton," so began a recent letter to Edgar T. Britton, executive director, Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness, the public service group founded to prevent the tragedy of needless blindness in Illinois. The organization is celebrating its 70th anniversary this year.

"We have in hand yours of earlier this year," the letter continued, "inquiring as to the continuance of eye safety concerns of items and articles produced and seasonally distributed by S. Claus Enterprises from our far north headquarters to world markets. Rest assured that as the chief administratrix of support services for S. Claus Enterprises, we continue to give our utmost attention to make sure that toys and other playthings produced in our workshops and distributed through our unique 'chimney to chimney' marketing program are as safe as possible with respect to children's eyes.

"We are aware toys and play are leading causes of eye damage among children and that there are special dangers to children's sight during the excitement of the December holidays--the peak of our distribution year. With that in mind, we have selected items for production and distribution that will withstand rough handling and that are suited to the age of the individual child. 'Flying,' pellet, dart and missile-type toys have not been part of our product lines for many years now per your long-time efforts. We are aware there are playthings made of brittle materials or that may have sharp edges or parts and caution for care with these playthings through public service groups such as your organization.

Thank you for your continuing interests and efforts for good vision and the prevention of needless blindness. Mr. Claus, our chairman and chief operating officer has asked me to convey his best wishes to you and your organization. Yours for happy and safe holidays, Ms. Claus."

Add Color To Christmas

This holiday season, bring the Fourth of July into your livingroom.

All you need to work some holiday magic are chemicals and a fireplace, says University of Illinois Extension Forester Mike Bolin.

"You can create festive colors and bring life to your party quite easily by soaking small yule logs or larger pieces of kindling, blocks of wood, wood chips, sawdust, pine cones and small newspaper logs in common chemicals available through most drug stores or chemical supply dealer," he says.

The following chemicals will produce these colors when burned:

- Copper sulfate, emerald green
- Calcium chloride, orange
- Copper chloride, blue
- Lithium chloride, carmine (red)
- Potassium chloride, purple
- Strontium chloride, red
- Barium Chloride, green
- Table or rock salt, yellow
- Finely shredded steel wool, sparkles

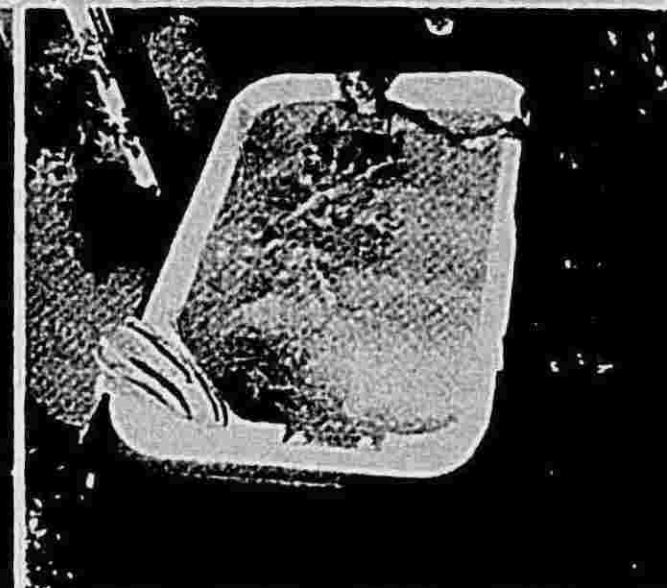

Bolin points out that when burning these treated items, make sure you do so in a fireplace that operates properly. If your fireplace tends to smoke a little, it's best not to burn these chemically treated items because there is a chance of them giving off unhealthy fumes.

"Follow all safety precautions when handling chemicals of any kind," Bolin says. "Buy only the amount you need, and keep the chemicals away from children and pets."

Overnight Mail Delivery Sparks $4 Billion Industry

When the U.S. Postal Service established overnight mail delivery nearly 17 years ago to help American business "get things done in a hurry," probably no one would have guessed that a $4 billion industry had been born.

Seemingly everyone was asking for and expecting immediate results when the Postal Service introduced its Express Mail overnight service to meet that need in 1970. Suddenly, American business was able to elevate its mail delivery standard to a never-before achieved level.

In the years to follow other now well-known companies were established to enter this highly competitive market and thousands of new jobs for Americans were created across the nation.

Today, Express Mail overnight service ships more than 100,000 packages a day to thousands of U.S. cities and towns and 52 countries around the world. The reliability rate of shipments delivered on time is one of the industry's highest. In 1985, Express Mail service shipped a record of 46.9 million letters and packages generating $572 million in revenue.

Wayne J. Gardner, field director of Marketing and Communications for the North Suburban Div., said Express Mail sales in northern Illinois reached $8.2 million in fiscal year 1986. "Approximately 268 postal facilities in the area accept Express Mail shipments until 5 p.m.," he said.

"We have placed 213 Express Mail collections boxes in 48 communities to help make Express Mail more convenient," Gardner said, "and with O'Hare International Airport within the area, we have one of the most extensive lists of destinations that can be reached overnight with Express Mail Service."

Gardner said that Express Mail can be delivered to all addresses 365 days a year, including weekends and holidays—which probably accounts for the annual upsurge in shipments just prior to Christmas. It also can be picked up at selected post offices every business day.

Delivery reliability is the key to Express Mail's success. Overnight service guarantees a refund of postage if letters or packages fail to arrive on time. All Express Mail shipments are insured against loss or damage at no additional cost. This, Gardner pointed out, includes merchandise insurance for loss or damage up to $500 and document reconstruction insurance up to $50,000 per piece, subject to a limit of $500,000 per occurrence.

Packages can be sent from more than 26,000 post offices around the country for the lowest cost-per-piece mailing charge in the overnight mail industry. For delivery directly to the customer, the charge is $10.75 for a package weighing up to two pounds and $12.85 for a package weighing up to five pounds. Rates for heavier shipments up to 70 pounds are based on the amount of service purchased, weight and distance.

Express Mail overnight service also offers Post Office to Post Office Service for the overnight rate of $8.60 for two pounds. For urgent packages that can't wait for next day delivery, the Postal Service provides Express Mail Same Day Service.

Drop off packaged as the O'Hare Airport Mail Facility and recipients can pick them up at the destination airport the same day.

Express Mail International Service delivers to 52 countries throughout South America, Europe, Asia and Africa. Customers can rely on high-speed delivery to these countries because of special arrangements made between the U.S. Postal Service and foreign postal administrations.

Express Mail overnight service offers several benefits for business customers. Corporate Accounts, offering a computerized pre-payment system, are convenient to pay for shipments and produce a monthly statement itemizing all shipments. Regular scheduled pickup service is available.

Tests for use of credit cards for Express Mail now are being conducted in five cities. The Postal Service is tracking the extent of usage and the public's acceptance of the new method to determine whether the program will be expanded. The credit card option is expected to be especially attractive to less frequent users of the overnight service.

An unusual part of the service is that users receive all the shipping containers they need at no charge.

There is the cardboard "Overnighter" envelope for letters and photos; the "2-Pound Pak" envelope for heavier documents, contracts and other small items; "Overnighters" box for heavier shipments such as computer print-outs and mechanical equipment; and the strong, triangular "Overnighter" tube to protect items such as drawings, blue prints and maps.

Solicit Wildlife Proposal

Individuals, conservation professionals and conservation groups have until March 1 to submit fiscal year 1988 project proposals for possible funding through the Nongame Check-off Conservation Fund, according to Carl Becker, DOC Natural Heritage Div. chief.

"The Nongame Check-off has functioned as kind of a citizens' 'foundation' to fund nongame wildlife projects proposed by both private groups and conservation professionals," Becker said. "The Check-off supports projects benefitting protected or threatened nongame plants and animals which would not otherwise be funded."

GOP Holds Large Margin On Board

by JOHN STEINKE
Political Columnist

Currently, the Republicans possess a four-to-one margin over the Democrats on the Lake County Board. The minority party representation is from the Democratic enclaves along Lake Michigan's shoreline. The Democratic members are John Balen of Waukegan, Audrey Nixon of North Chicago, Sam Payne of Zion and Tony Sendar of Waukegan.

There are five township supervisors serving on the county board. They include Jim Fields of Antioch Twp., Mike Graham of Libertyville Twp., Jerry Beyer of Wauconda Twp., Norm Geary of Avon Twp., and Bob Neal of Newport Twp. Public officials, who drew salaries from both township and county government, are called "double dippers."

Women are well-represented on the county board. Seven out of the board's 24 members are females. The "haircurler seven" include Helen Belmont Amendola of Highland Park, Audrey Nixon of North Chicago, Deloris Axelrod of Highland Park, Eleanor Rosfrom of Waukegan, Andrea Moore of Libertyville, Charlotte "Char" Kiesgen of Fox Lake and Carol Calabresa of Libertyville.

"The Class of '86," or first-term representatives include Richard "Rick" Price of Lake Forest, Bruce Hansen of Lake Zurich, John Reindl of rural Mundelein, Carol Calabresa of Libertyville, and Charlotte "Char" Kiesgen of Fox Lake. Two former county board members recaptured office in the 1986 elections: Matt Miholic of Lake Bluff and Mike Graham of Libertyville.

Auditions

Auditions for "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" will be held Sunday, Jan. 4 at 2 p.m. and Monday, Jan. 5 at 7 p.m. at the Genesee Theatre, 205 N. Genesee St., Waukegan. Parts are available for both adults and children. The production will be staged Feb. 27, 28 and March 1, 1987. For additional information, call (312) 336-0494.

BRING US YOUR SKILLS

Our growing group of Illinois and Wisconsin Newspapers has several opportunities open now in a fast-paced, exciting field.

Advertising/Marketing

A self-motivated person desirous of finding a place in the challenging field of advertising and marketing will be interested in the opportunity available in the retail advertising department of Lakeland Newspapers.

The person who can work with a minimum of supervision and enjoys utilizing their creative skills to help others will find great satisfaction in this position. Since the position involves making contacts outside the main office, a car is necessary and mileage compensation will be paid.

Inexperience in advertising sales will be no hindrance. We can train you if you have desire, a high level of energy, are dependable and willing to work hard. Persons entering the job market for the first time, returning to the work force after a lapse due to family responsibilities or making a career change are ideal applicants. You will be successful if you are persistent, outgoing, responsible and organized.
